Statement Of Identity

We are Disciples of Christ, a movement for wholeness in a fragmented world. As part of the one body of Christ, we welcome all to the Lord's Table as God has welcomed us.

Principles of Identity

1. We confess that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of the Living God, and proclaim him Lord and Savior of the world, requiring nothing more - and nothing less - as a basis of our life together.
2. We hold the centrality of scripture, recognizing that each person has the freedom - and the responsibility - to study God's Word within the community of the church.
3. We practice the baptism of believers, which emphasizes that God's grace demands a response of faith and discipleship, while also recognizing the baptism performed in other churches.
4. We gather for the Lord's Supper, as often as possible, experiencing at this table the gracious, forgiving presence of Jesus Christ.
5. We structure our community around the biblical idea of covenant, emphasizing not obedience to human authority but accountability to one another because of our shared obedience to Christ.
6. We participate in God's mission for the world, working with partners to heal the brokenness of creation and bring justice and peace to the whole human family.
7. We hear a special calling to make visible the unity of all Christians, proclaiming that in our diversity we belong to one another because we commonly belong to Christ.
8. We witness to the Gospel of God's saving love for the world in Jesus Christ, while continuing to struggle with how God's love may be known to others in different ways.
9. We affirm the priesthood of all believers, rejoicing in the gifts of the Holy Spirit - which include the gift of leadership - that God has given for the common good.
10. We celebrate the diversity of our common life, affirming our different histories, styles of worship, and forms of service.
11. We give thanks that each congregation, where Christ is present through faith, is truly the church, affirming as well that God's church and God's mission stretch from our doorsteps to the ends of the earth.
12. We anticipate God's coming reign, seeking to serve the God - Creator, Redeemer, and Sustainer - whose loving dominion has no end.

- Disciples of Christ Statement Of Identity

The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), while founded on American soil in the early 1800s, is uniquely equipped to live up to its identity that it is a "movement for wholeness in a fragmented world." The denomination was born in the 1800s, and continues to be influenced by its founding ideals of our unity in Christ with openness and diversity in practice and belief.

The Disciples Vision, Mission, Imperative and Covenant statement calls the communion to be a faithful, growing church that demonstrates true community, deep Christian spirituality and a passion for justice.

The Vision of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)

To be a faithful, growing church, that demonstrates true community, deep Christian spirituality and a passion for justice.

This Mission of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)

To be and to share the Good News of Jesus Christ, witnessing, loving and serving from our doorsteps "to the ends of the earth."

The church is identified with the Protestant "mainstream" and is widely involved in social and other concerns. Disciples have supported vigorously world and national programs of education, agricultural assistance, racial reconciliation, care of the developmentally disabled and aid to victims of war and calamity.

The denomination now counts about 700,000 members in the United States and Canada in about 3,700 congregations. Numerically, the strength of the Disciples of Christ runs in a broad arc that sweeps from Ohio and Kentucky through the Midwest and down into Oklahoma and Texas.

Organization

The Disciples have a history of congregational government, although in 1968 they adopted a structure that sees the church in covenantal relationships in congregational, regional and general ministries. Each expression is considered equal rather than pyramidal and each has its protected rights and identified responsibilities. Each is in covenantal relation to the others and calls or dismisses its own staff and handles its own finances and property. The general ministry is called general rather than national because both the United States and Canada are included in the structure. There are 33 regions, many of them encompassing all of a single state.

The General Assembly

The representative body of the church meets biennially and may involve 6,000-10,000 persons, about half of whom are official voters from congregations and regions. All persons who register have the right to speak. The voters include ministers, lay persons, regional representatives and the church's General Board. The General Board is a 73-voting-member-body with 50 ex officio non-voting members that meets annually. A 20-member Administrative Committee meets twice annually.

What do the Disciples Believe?

Disciples stress freedom and diversity – but most do share these basic beliefs:

- 1) The Bible – the guide for Christian living and faith; truly reveals God's purpose in the world: to free us from sin through Christ
- 2) God – revealed in the Bible and through the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ
- 3) Christ – the Son of God; part of God's own divinity, yet fully human; our Savior, with us always
- 4) Public Confession – of belief in Christ and repenting of sins; acceptance of Jesus into our lives
- 5) Unity – of all Christians in love of Christ; doctrines and human differences should not be allowed to divide believers from each other
- 6) Inclusive Ministry – in the life and work of the church; ALL members are “ministers” entitled to interpret the Scriptures and perform church functions
- 7) The Ordinances of the Gospel – Baptism and Communion

Communion

The Lord's Supper or Communion is celebrated in weekly worship. It is open to all who are followers of Jesus Christ. The practice of Holy Communion has become the central element of worship within the Disciples tradition.

Disciples' observance of the Lord's Supper emanates from the upper room, where Jesus shared bread and wine with his disciples on the eve of his crucifixion. Through the power of the Holy Spirit, the living Christ is met and received in the sharing of the bread and the cup, representative of the body and blood of Jesus. The presence of the living Lord is affirmed and he is proclaimed to be the dominant power in our lives.

Baptism

Just as the baptism represents the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ, it symbolizes the death and burial of the old self of the repentant believer, and the joyous birth of a brand new being in Christ. Those who founded the Disciples movement taught baptism by immersion as the accepted form.

Baptism is for mature individuals who are old enough to make their own decisions, a public confession of faith in Jesus Christ, and a commitment to discipleship.

Once the new ministry is established, it will be assigned to the appropriate Mission Area and will be nurtured by that Ministry Area Leader.

Elders may also serve as shepherds for members of SECC: The Shepherding Ministry is a program of elders who serve as an additional layer of pastoral care; it is not intended to replace care provided by the pastors. The purpose of this ministry is to tend to the spiritual welfare of believers over time by watching over, guiding, and nurturing them. Here at SECC, elders serve as shepherds and each member (sheep) of the congregation is assigned to one specific shepherd. Shepherds strive to love, serve, lead by example, and equip their “sheep” in a variety of ways.

8. Elders Emeriti: Elders whose service and consecration to the church merits this honor may be recognized by the members and may be retired from active responsibility. These are to be known as Elders Emeriti. The selection shall be made by the elders.

In consultation with their Ministry Area Leader, they will solicit members of their respective Ministry Teams. Ministry Team Leaders will meet with their Ministry Teams as necessary for the fulfillment of the team's ministry.

They will discuss with the Pastor(s) special needs of members of the Congregation as such needs are brought to their attention. Deacons shall meet as needed. There shall be no fewer than thirty-five (35) Deacons in active service at any one time. Youth deacons shall be between the age of 13 and 18.

Camel Award

Standard Operating Procedure

Approved January 2010

The Camel Award is presented each year to an individual or group of individuals who have been innovative and creative in bringing new ministries to our congregation or providing new or outstanding leadership in an existing ministry. Over the past years our Church Family has been blessed with the contributions of these innovators.

The Camel Award is named in honor of the late Clayton Curd who had a vision that our Drive Through Bethlehem needed live camels to be complete. Clayton made all the arrangements that resulted in live camels to first be used in this gift of love to our community.

1. Pick the date of the announcement to the congregation of the award winner and work backwards to determine a start date for the process.
2. Allow ~two weeks for nominations and have them end just prior to a cabinet meeting (i.e. nominations accepted through the Sunday before a Tuesday cabinet meeting).
3. After determining the above dates, work backwards to determine a date to announce the nomination period to the congregation. Prepare a notice for The Current and send it to the church secretary prior to the print date. Additional signs, bulletin inserts, and a congregational announcement are also possible means of starting the nomination process. A short explanation of the history of the Camel Award should be included if possible.
4. Once the process has been started by the announcements (#3), organize the ballots as they are received and be prepared to give short reasons for the nominations (as mentioned on the nomination forms) on the ballots that you will prepare for the cabinet meeting.
5. Request to be placed on the agenda for that cabinet meeting and come to the meeting prepared with the printed ballots for secret voting by all cabinet members present. The Moderator may abstain from regular voting and prepare a ballot to be counted only in the case of a tie.
6. The results of the cabinet vote are announced at the cabinet meeting with the understanding that the results are a secret until announced by the Moderator at the worship service.

Ethical Guidelines
For Congregational Conduct
Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)
Adopted by the Cabinet, February 18, 2014

We, the members of this congregation, following much prayer and discussion of our attitudes and practices in the light of the life and teachings of Jesus, hereby resolve to follow the ethical principles delineated in the New Testament. The following Ethical Guidelines For Congregational Conduct, while not to be construed as a set of rules or law, will help us to make specific application of our New Testament faith to our practices as a congregation.

May God guide us and give us strength and determination as we endeavor to understand and to fulfill the resolves mentioned in these guidelines.

I. OUR RELATIONSHIP AS MEMBERS TO ONE ANOTHER

- A. We will treat one another with courtesy and kindness. We will endeavor to maintain an attitude of Christian love in all our relationships.
- B. We will welcome the expression of differing viewpoints and will seek to create an atmosphere of trust and confidence that will encourage free discussion.
- C. We will seek to keep confidences and will refrain from gossip. We will seek in all we do and say to strengthen character and dignify personality.
- D. We will remember that our personal conduct gives evidence of our sincerity and reflects upon the good name of the Church, the Body of Christ.
- E. We will reaffirm this document at least triennially and review these guidelines whenever we are in the process of calling new pastoral leadership.
- F. We will work within the framework of the constitution and by-laws of this congregation. These guidelines will not supersede our own church's constitution and by-laws but may be helpful in their revision.
- G. We will establish and follow a policy on receiving and using special gifts, memorials, trusts, and endowed funds in such a way as to be consistent with Christian stewardship. Reception of the gift entails a consideration of its appropriateness. The policy should also give consideration to when an item outlasts its usefulness.

II. OUR RELATIONSHIP AS MEMBERS TO OUR CHURCH OFFICERS AND LEADERS

- A. We will select our officers intentionally and impartially on the basis of their commitment, competence, compassion and maturity in the faith. We are committed to having men, women and youth serve in the various responsibilities of the congregation.
- B. We will endeavor to distribute our offices among many persons and be appreciative of the services of every member.
- C. We will provide them opportunities for training, skill development and faith formation. We will provide the resources needed for each to be an effective leader.

D. We will nurture through encouragement and prayer our officers, committees, classes, auxiliary groups and the board of the congregation.

- E. We will expect our officers to manifest Christian principles in their conduct.
- F. We will offer constructive support and feedback to our officers and leaders.

III. OUR RELATIONSHIP AS MEMBERS TO OUR MINISTER(S)

- A. When seeking a minister, we will follow our denominational guidelines, work through the Regional Office, and will conduct all negotiations with integrity, courtesy and orderly procedure, without unfair discrimination with regard to marital status, sex, age or race.
- B. We will keep informed on how ministers are compensated in our denomination through information supplied by the Pension Fund of the Christian Church and by the regional office, and will support our ministers with salary, housing, a pension plan, health insurance, necessary expense funds, vacation, and the time and financial means for continuing education consistent with the demands and resources of our congregation.
- C. We will provide our minister with necessary facilities and equipment for his or her work and will respect study hours. We will be considerate of the need for rest and relaxation and will be sensitive to the need for time with family.
- D. We will respect the time and talents of members of the minister's family and will have no greater expectations of them than of other lay people.
- E. We will grant our minister responsible freedom of the pulpit and the right to present Christian convictions without fear.
- F. We will respect and cooperate with our minister's spiritual and intellectual leadership.
- G. We will call on our present minister for weddings, funerals and other special services. Our former ministers or others unconnected with the congregation may be invited to participate in such services only when appropriate and at the present minister's invitation.
- H. We will cooperate with our minister to best utilize our congregation's talents in fulfilling the mission of the church.
- I. We will keep our minister informed when pastoral services are needed.
- J. We will support our minister's reasonable participation in Cluster, Area, District, Regional, and/or General activities of the denomination, as well as civic and ecumenical activities.
- K. We will encourage and assist our minister through constructive feedback, appropriate praise, constant prayer and faithful participation with him or her in ministry.
- L. Because the congregation is a priesthood of believers that minister to one another (pastor to the congregation and congregation to the pastor), our relationships in the church will be covenantal as well as contractual, and we will maintain and conclude all pastoral relationships in a spirit of Christian love.
- M. The church will be sensitive and will voluntarily find specific ways to go the second mile in ministry with love, compassion and trust in the event of personal and/or family crisis, illness of the minister or minister's family, a death in the family, psychological or emotional difficulties or other extenuating circumstances.

- N. We will have an active Pastoral Relations Committee or a corresponding body to continually monitor the relationship between our minister and the congregation, and we will call on the assistance of the regional staff before a conflict situation grows into a crisis.
- O. We will observe similar appropriate principles with all other professional staff of our congregation.

IV. OUR RELATIONSHIP AS MEMBERS TO OUR COMMUNITY AND/OR COUNTRY

- A. We accept our missional responsibility for the moral and spiritual development of our community. We agree to live in a manner consistent with our Christian convictions.
- B. Because our Christian convictions set the standard for our citizenship, our faith will lead us to be informed, to respect law, to vote our conscience and to influence government officials in working toward a just and morally responsible community.
- C. We will be attentive to the moral and ethical implications of every project we are asked to support.
- D. We will maintain a good credit standing in the community. We will expect our staff to do the same.
- E. We will respect the rights and privileges of persons living near the church and will endeavor not to inconvenience our neighbors nor harm their property.
- F. We will establish no barriers that might prevent anyone from worshiping with us.
- G. We will work in a complementary way with community service agencies and organizations to most effectively serve and improve our community.

V. OUR RELATIONSHIP AS MEMBERS TO THE CHURCHES IN OUR COMMUNITY

- A. We will seek to understand the beliefs and practices of others. While we may be constructively critical of their doctrine, we will refrain from unkind remarks about people who differ from us.
- B. We will encourage unity and harmony among the various communions of Christian peoples and will give evidence of our sincerity through participation at appropriate local, state/province, national and/or world levels.
- C. We will not be part of proselytizing members from other congregations in our community, nor will we exploit the problems or crises of other congregations. We will present the witness of our congregation in a manner not injurious to others.
- D. We will respect the privilege of borrowing from other congregations.
- E. We will consider sharing our facilities according to the necessities of the community and the purpose for which they are needed.

VI. OUR RELATIONSHIP AS MEMBERS TO THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH (DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)

- A. We will seek to know and to understand the various points of view within the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and will respect the opinions of those whose interpretations differ from our own.
- B. We will recognize our covenantal relationship with the Disciples and will give generous and prayerful support to our programs at home and overseas.
- C. We will endeavor to know, claim and live our identity as set forth in the Preamble for the Design of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and be knowledgeable about the actions of the Cluster, Area, District, Regional, and General Assemblies.
- D. Mission gifts received by our congregation will be used for their intended purpose(s). Budget commitments for world outreach causes are as binding as those secured for our local obligations.
- E. We will encourage our minister(s) and our members to serve beyond the local congregation in the Cluster, Area, District, Regional and/or General manifestations of Disciple work.

VII. OUR RELATIONSHIP AS MEMBERS TO THE CHURCH UNIVERSAL

- A. With the church universal we proclaim that Jesus Christ is Lord and Savior of the world, in his name and by his grace we accept our mission of witness and service to all people.
- B. We are bound to God and one another through covenant, and through baptism we are made one with the whole people of God.
- C. We are called to express the unity God bestows by ecumenical study, dialogue, cooperation and expression.
- D. Because all Christians in the church universal have the obligation to uphold the Christian life in the face of the evil forces of our day, we will cooperate with other church bodies in living the Christian witness.
- E. We will support acceptable agencies of Christian cooperation in local, national and global manifestations of the Church's life.
- F. So as to establish no barriers that might prevent any of Jesus' followers from communing with us; we will remember that our LORD invites his believers to the Lord's Table in the spirit of Christian love and unity.

We the members of South Elkhorn Christian Church of Lexington, Kentucky, on the 18th day of February, 2014, desire to uphold the covenantal relationships we share with one another, our church officers and leaders, our ministers, our community and country, the churches in our community, the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), and the Church universal regarding these guidelines.

Signed on behalf of the Congregation by:

Chad Conley, Chair/Moderator of the Board

Facility Usage Policy

Approved May 2010

Mission Statement

To love God and neighbor through Worship, Witness, Fellowship, Service, and Discipleship.

Introduction

The facilities of SECC are designed and built for the purpose of furthering the mission of South Elkhorn Christian Church. It is the responsibility of the Church Ministry Cabinet and all members of South Elkhorn to use this facility in bringing people to worship God. All facilities must be maintained in a clean and comfortable manner. It is with these goals in mind that the following guidelines have been established.

GENERAL OPERATING GUIDELINES

The General Operating guidelines are applicable to all SECC facilities and grounds.

Non-profit organizations may use our facilities, rent free, if they fit within the mission and vision of our church and are approved by the Church Ministry Cabinet. This is done as a community outreach. However, if the organization desires to offer a donation to the church, it will be welcome and appreciated.

The facilities of South Elkhorn Christian Church may not be used for personal or corporate profit, and groups may not sell products of any kind, unless express permission is granted through the church office or Church Ministry Cabinet.

Contact Person: All events must have a designated contact person who signs the agreement form and who will remain present during the event and is responsible for turning off all lights, cleaning up all areas used (including bathrooms), removing trash, and communicating with the church office and staff.

Clean-up: It is the expectation of the church that facilities used by any group should be left in the same or better condition in which it was found. This includes all areas listed in the previous paragraph (in bold). Those who choose to ignore these guidelines will be asked to leave and subsequent requests for use may be declined.

Insurance: All non-SECC church sponsored organizations requesting to use South Elkhorn's facilities will need to provide a certificate of insurance showing $1 million in liability insurance, and the certificate must show that South Elkhorn Christian Church is a primary additional insured on the non-profit's general liability insurance coverage.

Financial responsibility: Groups that are not a direct ministry of South Elkhorn Christian Church are financially responsible for any damages which they may cause in the course of their activity in the facility.

Behavior: All groups and individuals who use the church facilities shall demonstrate behavior at all times consistent with Christian morals and values. Therefore, no foul language, inappropriate dress, inappropriate activity, alcohol, or illegal drugs will be allowed on our church property. No fireworks or combustibles of any kind are permitted on the property. Tobacco use is not permitted inside any of the church buildings. If smoking outside, ashes and butts must be disposed of properly and not dropped on grounds.

Youth: If the event involves youth, adequate and responsible adult leadership is required to supervise youth activities.

Trash: Must be removed from the facility/grounds and placed in the dumpster after all events. Please replace the trash bag. Trash bags can be found in a labeled drawer in the CMC kitchen.

Paper Goods: All groups must provide their own paper plates, napkins, etc.

Kitchens: Use of the stove, oven, and warmer by non-members is not allowed unless previously authorized by church office or Church Ministry Cabinet.

Decorations on walls: No decorations may be used that will deface the church buildings, walls, or furnishings. No holes may be put in the walls. Nails, tacks, push pins, staples, or any type of tape may not be used unless permission is granted. The only type of tape that is allowed is the kind that will not harm any surface. Renters will be responsible for removing all supplies and decorations from the rented areas.

Rice, bird seed, glitter: Throwing of rice and bird seed is prohibited during any event, including weddings, because of the risk that it poses for potential falls. The use of glitter, confetti, and other such materials is prohibited for any functions.

Church equipment: No church equipment of any kind shall be removed from the church building without prior approval from the Church Ministry Cabinet.

Lost, stolen, damaged items: SECC is not responsible for lost, stolen, or damaged personal items while on the church campus. However, SECC will make every reasonable effort to assist in the protection of personal property brought onto the church campus.

NOTE: Please refer to pages 4-5 for additional considerations of specific areas.

APPLICATION AND SCHEDULING

The church secretary will oversee the day to day scheduling and use of the church facilities, and in conjunction with the Senior Pastor, will handle routine requests. All rooms are to be scheduled by room number and use is limited to the assigned rooms unless modified through the church secretary prior to use.

Applications from an external group (not a direct ministry of SECC) that are of a unique or long term nature will be reviewed by the Church Ministry Cabinet. It is within the discretion of the Church Ministry Cabinet to modify or waive certain conditions or fees depending upon the circumstances.

Applications for use of church facilities should be completed at least 2 weeks prior to the desired date of use and returned to the church office during regular office hours. The application will be processed and returned to the applicant within 5 working days unless the office staff determines that the application needs to be reviewed by the Church Ministry Cabinet.

Events are limited to the space that is assigned and are on a one-time only basis with no continuing use unless approved by the Church Ministry Cabinet.

IMPORTANT! Church related events have priority scheduling on the calendar. Any group which is not a direct ministry of South Elkhorn Christian Church must sign a facility use form recognizing that changes in the South Elkhorn Christian Church calendar may affect the availability of space. SECC reserves the right to move a scheduled event to a different room or cancel or postpone an event if an unexpected church related conflict arises (i.e. funeral).

Each group using any SECC facility must designate a contact person who will be responsible for the care of the facility. This person will be present during the event and be accountable for any damage or missing church property, and must insure that the facility is cleaned and restored for future use. These tasks must be performed immediately following the activity.

Approved September 20, 2011

The allocation of funds received from sources outside the ordinary course of church business (i.e. non-pledged, annual fund-raising activities, one-time designated" bequests, etc.) by the church shall be determined by the South Elkhorn Christian Church Cabinet (SECC Cabinet) at the time the funds are received. The SECC Cabinet shall take into consideration the current needs and requirements of South Elkhorn Christian Church when determining the allocation of such funds.

Harassment Policy

Approved August 21, 2007

South Elkhorn Christian Church is committed to providing a safe environment free from harassment. Harassment may take many forms. No form or type of harassment is tolerated.

Offensive language, racial, ethnic, or religious slurs, or other remarks, jokes, or conduct that encourages or permits an offensive or hostile environment or diminishes the worthy of another person is not acceptable to South Elkhorn Christian Church. This is true even if other members or visitors do not seem to object. Behaviors in which persons make verbal threats toward others or make disparaging or derogatory comments or innuendoes directed towards others is not acceptable. Unwelcome flirtations or propositions or unwelcome physical contact is not acceptable. Display of material of any type that creates a hostile environment will not be tolerated at South Elkhorn Christian Church.

Anyone who believes that South Elkhorn Christian Church is not achieving its goals regarding harassment or inappropriate conduct shall immediately contact the senior pastor and moderator of the cabinet. If church employees are involved, notification of the chair of personnel team is appropriate. All complaints of harassment are investigated and dealt with appropriately. The church shall make every effort to protect the confidentiality of all parties involved in reported incidents.

Human Resource & Personnel Policy

Approved September 2012

1000. Human Resource Policy

Adopted by South Elkhorn Christian Church (SECC) (Disciples of Christ) in September 2012. This manual supersedes all previous employment policies. This policy is open for review by all church members and the personnel team welcomes questions or comments.

This Policy may be amended by at least 10 votes of the members of the full Cabinet voting in a regular or special meeting, provided that the proposed amendment has been submitted in writing to the members of the Cabinet at least 30 days prior to the vote thereon.

1001. Introduction

A. The purpose of this Human Resource Policy is to assist SECC in her mission.

B. This Policy provides a framework from which all personnel matters may be effectively managed and to describes terms and conditions of employment. While the existence of this document testifies to the sometimes businesslike nature of ministry and church administration, its ultimate purpose is to aid the work of ministry by providing opportunities for professional Christian service in a fair and supportive environment. SECC provides equal opportunity for qualified applicants of every race, color, sex, age, national origin, and physical ability.

C. The Personnel Team is responsible for maintaining church Human Resource policies. The Personnel Team will review the policy annually to ensure its accuracy, relevance and its responsiveness to the church's needs, but it reserves the right to change or amend this document at any time. Questions regarding interpretation of these policies shall first be referred to the Personnel Team.

D. The relationship between the SECC and each of its employees is one of mutual consent which the employee and the Church are both free to dissolve at any time. In accordance with this Employment-At-Will doctrine, the Church does not make employment contracts with its employees and it wishes to make clear the fact that this Human Resource Policy is not a contract.

Terminology Used In This Manual:

Pastors: clergy called by SECC such as the Senior Pastor and Associate Pastor.

Program Staff: Lay positions such as Music Director, Pianist, Secretary.

Full-Time: An employee normally authorized to work 32 or more hours per average work week.

Part-Time: An employee normally authorized to work 31 hours or less per average workweek.

Contract Services: Services performed on behalf of SECC based on a contract (not an SECC employee).

1002. Employment Procedures (Program Staff)

A. The Senior Pastor may personally conduct search and screening interviews or request the Personnel Chair to appoint a Subcommittee, which will be responsible for conducting screening interviews with qualified applicants. The Senior Pastor or the Subcommittee will then make recommendations for the selection interview(s), which will be conducted by the appropriate supervisor, Ministry Leaders, or Personnel Team representatives. Once a candidate is selected and after completion of background checks (if required), the Personnel Chair will make the offer of employment. If the person accepts, he or she will be directed to the finance lead and treasurer to complete the necessary forms and employment orientation.

B. The probationary period for new staff members lasts 180 days from the date of hire. This is a time for the new staff member to evaluate SECC as a workplace and for the supervisor to evaluate the new staff member's performance. For more information, see Performance Evaluations under paragraph 1008.H.

1003. Wages and Salaries:

A. This church's policy is to provide salaries and hourly wages in accordance with the training and responsibilities of each position.

B. All appointed and lay staff are evaluated annually by their immediate supervisor using standardized Staff Development forms adopted by the Personnel Team.

C. Annual evaluations provide employees the opportunity to become familiar with their job duties and to understand what their supervisor expects in terms of results. This understanding provides a means for developing each employee's potential and for improving performance. Working together to set goals and objectives fosters improved communication between employee and supervisor.

D. Cost of living and/or merit raises may be provided when general economic conditions indicate and church finances allow; however, they should not be viewed as a routine part of employment compensation. The Personnel Team will review Staff Development summaries and staff evaluations as a basis for salary adjustments each year.

E. Salary information is a confidential part of each employee's personnel record and should not be discussed with other employees. Any employee who has questions about pay should contact his/her immediate supervisor.

F. The Church does not lend money or advance wage/salary amounts to its employees.

G. If an employee owes the Church money for any reason at the end of his/her term of employment, that amount will be deducted from the employee's final paycheck.

1004. Pay Periods

Pay periods for all employees are on the 1st and 15th of every month. All employees are required to authorize direct deposit of their pay to their financial institution. When a payday falls on a holiday, funds will be available on the last workday prior to the designated payday.

1005. Payroll Deductions

Payroll deductions as required by law are Federal Income Tax Withholding, Social Security and Medicare Taxes. Other deductions may include but not limited to pension and health insurance. See paragraph 1006 for eligibility requirements.

1006. Benefits

A. Eligibility (Lay Staff)

1. SALARIED: Eligible for paid holidays, vacations, sick leave.
2. PART-TIME, HOURLY EMPLOYEES: Eligible for wages only.

B. Non-Continuous Employment:

1. If a previous employee is rehired by SECC and was employed continuously by other Disciple Of Christ (DOC) church or agencies during the interim, credit will be given for total years of DOC employment.
2. If a previous employee is rehired by SECC and was employed only by other DOC churches or agencies during the interim, credit will be given for previous years of DOC employment.
3. If a previous employee is rehired by SECC and was employed by entities other than DOC churches or agencies during the interim, the employee will be considered a new employee but may apply to the Personnel Team with cause to receive credit or partial credit for previous years of service.
4. If a previous employee is rehired by SECC but did not seek or hold other employment during the interim, the employee will be considered a new employee but may apply to the Personnel Team with cause to receive credit or partial credit for previous years of service.

C. Group Health Insurance:

Group health insurance for eligible lay staff employees is not provided by SECC.

D. Worker's Compensation:

As required by law, SECC maintains Worker's Compensation insurance for all staff. This coverage provides benefits to employees affected by injury or illness related to employment at SECC, which pays the entire amount of the premium. The timeliness of payments to an injured or ill employee is dependent upon the timeliness of filing a "First Report of Injury" form. When an injury or job related illness occurs, the employee and his/her supervisor must complete a report and give it to their supervisor within two days of the injury or onset of illness. Benefit entitlements are governed by Kentucky law and begin on the first full day of hospitalization or the seventh day of absence due to job-related injury or illness if hospitalization is not required.

E. Unemployment Insurance:

The Church is exempt from mandatory participation in the State and Federal Unemployment Insurance Programs. Therefore, there are no unemployment insurance funds available.

F. Holidays:

1. SECC will normally be closed in observance of New Year's Day, Martin Luther King Day, Easter (one day), Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving (Thursday and Friday) and Christmas (two days, any more will be determined year to year).
2. Although church programs sometimes require employees to work on holidays, the Church's intent is to give established days off whenever possible. When work is required on a holiday or when a holiday falls on Saturday or Sunday, the Senior Pastor will establish an alternate day of observance.
3. The church offices are closed between Christmas and New Year's. Appointed staff are on call during this time period.

G. Vacations:

1. Vacations are provided to allow employees time away from the stresses and routine of work. All eligible employees are encouraged to take advantage of this benefit.
2. Paid vacations for full time lay staff are allotted according to the following table:

Length of service	Amount of vacation
0-4 years	2 weeks
5-9 years	3 weeks
10+ years	4 weeks
3. Part Time Salaried Staff will be given one week of paid vacation after one year of service.
4. Conditions on Table:
 - a. Credit for continuous service with another Disciples of Christ Church or agency will be included in establishing the amount of vacation eligibility. For a new employee not meeting these criteria the Personnel Team may, at its discretion, grant credit or partial credit for previous service.
 - b. New employees with no previous service will accrue vacation of one year of service by their employment date
 - c. The vacation schedule is from January 1st to December 31st. No vacation may be carried forward from one calendar year to the next. No more than two weeks of vacation can be taken consecutively unless written consent is received from the Personnel team.

d. Unused vacation time may not be exchanged for payment except when an employee terminates employment or retires. In those cases, payment is prorated based on the total length of service and year-to-date service at the time employment ceases.

e. Vacations should be scheduled as far in advance as possible, as they are subject to approval by the employee's supervisor. Approval is required because vacation days must be coordinated with those of other staff members to ensure adequate coverage of Church activities. Those with highest seniority on the church staff will have first choice when there is a conflict over vacation schedule.

1007. Work Schedule

A. Office Hours: The Church office is open Monday through Friday from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm and closed for lunch from noon until 1pm.

B. Work Schedules:

Employees will set their hours with consultation with the appropriate supervisor and review by the Personnel Team. Lay Staff whose job responsibilities require work on Sundays and evenings, will coordinate office hours with his/her supervisor. These hours will be made available to the office staff.

C. Overtime:

Overtime is not applicable.

D. Compensatory Time:

Lay Staff required to work on a holiday or on a regularly scheduled day-off will arrange with their supervisor for equivalent compensatory time off.

E. Absences:

Employees must provide their supervisor with adequate information as to the hour of expected return when working away from the Church, as well as a means of contact in case of emergency. The established day(s)-off for employees must be registered with the Administrative Assistant.

F. Bereavement:

After completing 180 days of employment, eligible staff members are entitled to up to three paid days off in the case of the death of an immediate family member. Immediate family member is defined as a spouse, child, parent or sibling. Exceptions are subject to approval by their supervisor in consultation with the Personnel Team.

G. Jury Duty:

Employees called for jury duty will be paid at the regular rate for any work time required for this service. Payment for Grand Jury service will be negotiated with the Personnel Team.

H. Unpaid Personal Time Off:

Unpaid time off of two weeks or less may be taken by employees, subject to the approval of the employee's immediate supervisor.

I. Leave of Absence:

Staff employees may request and receive a leave of absence without pay or employment benefits for a period of up to six months. Requests of this nature should be submitted in writing to the Personnel Team as far in advance as possible. The Cabinet will approve or disapprove the request.

The employee's request for leave must include the reason(s), circumstance(s), and duration of the desired leave as well as location(s) where the leave will be taken and the date(s) covered. The employee must also sign the leave request. The employee's supervisor will then submit a recommendation for approval or disapproval to the Personnel Team, which will notify the supervisor of the Cabinet's final decision.

During Leaves of Absence, employees may be responsible for paying the cost of continuing any employment-related benefits. Upon expiration of the Leave of Absence, the employee may be reinstated in his/her position held at the beginning of leave. It will be considered a voluntary resignation if the employee fails to report back to work on the designated date.

J. Sick Leave:

Employees are afforded a maximum of ten paid sick days per calendar year. Sick Leave cannot be carried over from year to year. All employees will be granted sick leave as necessary in coordination with their supervisor. Employees are to use sick leave only when unable to work due to illness, injury, maternity, hospitalization or confinement of self or of a member of the employee's immediate family. Sick Leave may also be used when receiving a medical, dental or optical examination or treatment. Employees taking Sick Leave of 5 consecutive days or more must present a doctor's release before returning to work. Employees will not be paid for unused Sick Leave. Any Employee using sick leave for reasons other than illness, injury, pregnancy, hospitalization, or confinement is subject to disciplinary action or termination.

K. Disability Leave of Absence:

SECC does not provide disability insurance. Employee absences due to brief illnesses or other medical disabilities should be handled, if possible, according to the Sick Leave policy (see 1007. J). Unused vacation days are also available for this purpose. If an employee is, or expects to be, medically unable to work for more than two weeks because of disability (illness, injury, hospitalization, or rehabilitation) or because of the need to care for an immediate family member with such a disability, Please use the Leave of Absence process (1007. I).

L. Maternity / Paternity Leave: The Family Medical Leave Act of 1994 does not apply to organizations with less than 50 employees. Please use Leave of Absence process (1007. I).

M. Sabbaticals and Study Leaves:

Sabbaticals for appointed staff are governed by the Cabinet. See the Sabbatical Leave Policy (separate document).

N. Administrative Leave:

When a situation arises in which the church program may be jeopardized by an employee remaining on the job, the Senior Pastor (or his/her designee when absent) in consultation with the Chairperson of Personnel Team may place that individual on Administrative Leave until the situation can be resolved.

1008. Work Practices

A. Conduct:

The Church respects employees' activities outside of work which are moral, private in nature, and which in no way conflict with or reflect adversely upon the Church. Every employee is expected to devote time and energy to the Church while on the job and not to engage in outside interests which interfere with employment attendance, performance or efficiency, as determined by the Church. This extends to the use of the Church's facilities, materials, and resources. Employees are not to offer, solicit orders for or sell any product or service to other employees or to church members. The following may be considered as exceptions, upon supervisory approval:

Fund-raising drives or activities approved by the church
Sales or solicitation of orders for products or services outside scheduled work hours.

If a conflict of interest situation should develop or employees have doubts concerning Church policy, the matter should be brought to the attention of the employee's supervisor.

B. Personnel Appearance:

Employees are expected to present themselves during working hours in attire that is appropriate to their positions and to the nature of the work they are to perform. Employees having personal contact with visitors and Church members should be particularly conscious of maintaining appropriate dress, grooming and hygiene standards. Extremes of dress should be avoided. Employees should consult their supervisors when in doubt.

C. Personal Calls and Visitors:

Church telephones are provided for Church-related activities. From time to time, it may be necessary for employees to make and receive personal calls. Employees are expected to use good judgment and common sense when it comes to personal phone calls.

The Church does not wish to exclude personal visits to employees, but employees should remember that they are part of a working environment and should not distract others.

The Church intends to be supportive of its employees and their families. Should an occasion arise in which an employee must care for a family member during working hours at the Church, the employee should first ask permission from his/her supervisor.

D. Gifts and Gratuities:

Employees will not be allowed to solicit, obtain, accept or retain any personal benefit from any supplier, vendor, member or any individual or organization doing or seeking to do business with SECC. As used here, personal benefit means a gift, gratuity, favor, service, discount, special treatment or any other form of compensation, including anything of monetary value.

The following may serve as exceptions:

1. The purchase of business-meeting meals
2. Consumable gifts offered to an entire work group, when the rejection of the gift would damage the spirit in which the gift was offered

Any doubts as to this policy should be addressed to the employee's supervisor.

E. Confidentiality:

It is essential for every employee, in whatever position, to respect and maintain strict confidentiality in all matters dealing with Church members or personnel. The unauthorized release of confidential information could result in disciplinary action.

F. Conduct Requiring Discipline

Sexual Harassment:

It is the policy of SECC is to provide a working environment free from all forms of harassment. Specifically, sexual harassment in the workplace is unacceptable behavior and will not be tolerated. Violators of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action which may include immediate termination.

Sexual Harassment occurs when a person makes an unwelcome sexual advance, requests a sexual favor or engages in other undesirable verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. Furthermore, sexual harassment exists when such advances, requests or other conduct interferes with an individual's work or creates an offensive, intimidating or hostile working environment. An employee who has a sexual harassment complaint should immediately report the incident to the highest level staff member who is not directly involved with the incident or to a member of the Personnel Team. The person receiving a sexual harassment complaint must respond promptly to determine the facts of the event. An investigation should be conducted in an objective manner, and care should be taken by the investigator to guard the privacy of those involved. Information will be treated in confidence except for that which is required to be released to properly investigate the alleged occurrence.

Other Prohibited Types of Conduct:

Certain undesirable types of conduct, including but not limited to the following, will result in disciplinary action.

4. Failure to report a work-related injury or accident.
5. Negligence or actions that endanger the health or safety of self or others.
6. Falsification of time sheets.
7. Intentional falsification of records required in the ministry or business of the Church.

Depending on the nature and circumstances of a particular incident, discipline will normally be progressive and bear a reasonable relationship to the violation. An Administrative Leave may be imposed if the violation is of sufficient concern to health or safety. (1007.N)

1. Verbal Reprimand:

This is a verbal statement by the supervisor to an employee, usually pointing out an unsatisfactory element of job performance or behavior. This is intended to be corrective or cautionary.

A verbal reprimand identifies the needed area of improvement, sets goals for achieving the appropriate level of improvement, and informs the employee of the consequences of failure to improve.

Verbal reprimands will be recorded in the employee's personnel file and the Personnel Team will be notified.

2. Written Reprimand:

The employee's supervisor issues a written reprimand to the employee and places a copy signed by the employee, Personnel Team representative and supervisor in the employee's personnel file.

The employee may request a hearing with the Personnel Team to express a grievance with the reprimand.

3. Discharge:

Employees should be aware that their employment relationship with SECC is based on the condition of mutual consent, otherwise known as the Employment-At-Will doctrine (see 1000.D).

G. Performance Evaluations

1. New Employees:

New employees will receive a formal evaluation from their immediate supervisor on or near six months of employment. Thereafter, all employees will be evaluated annually in November

2. Ongoing Evaluations:

The employee evaluation process will be consistent across all positions in the Church, relative to job complexity and demands. An employee's evaluation is an ongoing process and should be discussed regularly.

A standard evaluation form will be used for all employees as developed by the Personnel Team.

Per the SECC by-laws, the pastors will be evaluated by the Elders. Staff will be evaluated by their supervisors.

A copy of each performance evaluation acknowledged by the signature of the employee and employee supervisor, dated, and placed in the employee's personnel file.

The employee is given an opportunity to discuss their performance evaluation with the Personnel Team. This is an excellent time to ask questions and clarify important points. Performance evaluations help the Personnel team make important decisions about job responsibilities, roles, training, and development, and pay increases. A satisfactory performance evaluation does not guarantee a merit increase nor does it alter, modify, or amend the "at will" employment relationship between the employee and the Church.

H. Grievance Procedure:

There may be times when an employee has a significant problem with an aspect of the working conditions at SECC. In those cases, staff members may present a grievance using the following procedures.

1. Initial Discussion:

This should begin with the employee's immediate supervisor. Employees raising a grievance issue are urged to clearly present the facts of the situation and to avoid broad generalizations or non-specific complaints.

2. Appeal:

If the employee's immediate supervisor is unable to resolve a grievance satisfactorily, the problem should then be presented in writing to the Personnel Team. A written response to the grievance should be returned to the employee within two weeks, unless vacation or other unavoidable interruptions delay the process.

3. Final Appeal:

If the employee is still not satisfied that the grievance has been addressed completely, a written appeal may be presented to the Personnel Team within 30 days for review. At the option of either the employee or the Personnel Team, the employee may personally present the grievance before the Cabinet at a regularly-scheduled meeting. The Cabinet will respond in writing to the employee within one week of that meeting. This response of the Cabinet is final.

I. Job Descriptions:

Each employee shall be given a copy of their job description upon hiring.

A copy of the job description will be placed in the employee's personnel file.

Employees should be familiar with their job descriptions, which are used to aid in staffing, wage and salary administration, and training. These also aid employees and supervisors in communicating job responsibilities.

Job descriptions can be expected to change over time as an employee's responsibilities evolve. During periodic employee performance evaluations (see 1008.H), job descriptions will also be evaluated for possible revision by the Personnel Team.

If there is a revision, an employee-signed revised copy will be handled per paragraphs 1 & 2 above.

J. Health and Safety:

The health and safety of employees and others on Church property are of utmost concern. It is, therefore, the policy of SECC to:

Strive constantly for the highest possible level of safety in all activities and operations and to carry out our commitment of compliance with all appropriate health and safety standards applicable to our ministries and organization by enlisting the help of all employees to ensure that public areas and work areas are free of hazardous conditions.

Enforce the following safety practices by all employees:

1. Be aware of the locations of First Aid kits and fire extinguishers
2. Use proper work methods
3. Report potential hazards
4. Eliminate observed hazards when possible.
5. Immediately notify supervisor of an injury. The injured employee's supervisor will then see to necessary medical attention and complete the required reports (see 1006.D).

K. Personal Property Liability:

SECC will not be responsible for personal property that is lost, damaged, stolen or destroyed.

L. Personnel Records:

Personnel records include information for administration of employee job description, certification documentation, continuing education, background check, benefit plans, salary, training records, performance appraisals, disciplinary correspondence, etc. These records are kept in a secure location. Only the employee, the Senior Pastor, and Personnel Team are granted access to these records. If the occasion arises that the Personnel Records require legal access by someone other than those mentioned above, the employee will be notified.

It is the employee's responsibility to report personal data changes such as new address or phone number(s) to the Administrative Assistant and Personnel Team Chair.

1009. The End of The Employment Relationship

A. Resignation:

Should a lay employee decide to leave the Church's employment, the employee shall submit a resignation letter to his/her supervisor and the Personnel Team no less than two weeks prior to last requested work day. This process shall be adhered to before any announcement is made to the employee's constituents.

Employees may be discharged at any time, under the Employment-At-Will doctrine (first mentioned in 1000.D). Two weeks' written notice or at the Personnel Team's discretion, equivalent pay in lieu of notice may be given to discharged employees except in cases of misconduct.

Prior to possible termination of a Lay employee, the employee's supervisor shall consult the Senior Pastor, Personnel Team, and Moderator of the circumstances.

The immediate supervisor, Senior Pastor and one member of the Personnel Team will be present at involuntary terminations of lay staff.

B. Exit Interview:

An exit interview shall be conducted by the departing employee's supervisor and one Personnel Team member. All Church property must be turned-in and checked on the employee's last working day. After reviewing checked-in equipment, arrangements will be made to issue the employee's final paycheck on the established pay schedule.

The supervisor is responsible for developing and maintaining a termination check list to be followed during the check-out process.

Sabbatical Leave Policy

Approved October 19, 2010

Revised September 17, 2013

The life of the church is not bound by worship hours and office/team schedules. Serving a church, then, calls for the dedication of a greater proportion of the pastor's life than is required in most professions. Beyond skills and knowledge, the pastor's duties draw from the inner being. Without care, a draining will occur. To minister to these needs, we are providing a policy for extended study, spiritual renewal and growth in the form of a sabbatical leave. There are three objectives of such a sabbatical:

1. Personal and spiritual renewal.
2. Continuing education and professional development.
3. Re-commitment of faith to the philosophy of the Disciples of Christ and to South Elkhorn Christian Church.

Specifics:

- Sabbatical leave is offered as a benefit for any full-time pastor who has served a minimum of five years, and every sixth year thereafter, as a full-time pastor pending no financial hardship would be placed on SECC.
- The pastor must give twelve months' notice of the intent to take a sabbatical leave.
- Full salary and benefits will be paid to pastor during the entire sabbatical leave.
- The sabbatical leave is in addition to vacation, but may not be coupled with vacation.
- Vacation may not be scheduled within two months of the end of the sabbatical.
- If SECC has more than one pastor on staff, two may not be on leave at the same time, nor may they take a sabbatical within twelve months of one another.
- The pastor is expected to remain on staff for a minimum of one full year following the end of a sabbatical.
- The pastor is required to submit a written sabbatical plan to the Cabinet no later than six months before the start of the leave. The plan shall detail how each of the three objectives will be met and requires Cabinet approval. Examples of encouraged activities include teaching, writing, working on a special project, reflection, continuing education, personal refreshment, academic courses, spiritual retreat, ministry related travel, and receiving pastoral care.
- The pastor may request a sabbatical every five years.
- The length of the sabbatical will be no more than three months.
- When two or more pastors are employed by SECC (full or part-time), regular duties of the pastor on sabbatical will be, for the most part, absorbed by the remaining pastors with assistance as necessary from the Sabbatical Team and the Elders.
- A sabbatical may not be taken during the following months: November, December, January, February, March, April, May without special approval by the Cabinet pending conditions of the sabbatical study which may require attendance at certain activities during these time periods.
- No additional compensation will be available to the Pastor during sabbatical.

SECC Responsibility

- Maintain the pastor's full pay and benefits while the pastor is away.
- As soon as the "intent for sabbatical leave" is announced by the pastor, the Cabinet Moderator and Vice-Moderator will begin appointing a "Sabbatical Team" consisting of five persons who will work with the pastor in determining the needs to be met while the pastor is on leave. This team shall consist of three Elders and two Deacons. The Sabbatical Team may enlist help from additional Elders, Deacons, and/or other congregational members to assist with needs during the pastor's leave.
- The Sabbatical Team will:
 14. Be informative in clarifying the nature of the sabbatical leave to congregation members.
 15. Assume responsibility for filling gaps in administrative and leadership duties that may occur in the absence of the pastor. (Examples: opening/closing building, leading small groups, etc.)
 16. Arrange for pastoral coverage during the time the pastor is away, as necessary, or when other pastoral staff is not available to fulfill pastoral duties.
 17. Arrange with another pastor to cover in time of crisis.
 18. Jointly develop the Sabbatical Plan with the pastor addressing the three objectives: personal and spiritual renewal; continuing education and professional development; re-commitment of faith to the philosophy of the Disciples of Christ and to South Elkhorn Christian Church.
 19. Evaluate the impact of the sabbatical on the pastor and congregation. Submit the findings to the Cabinet and share with the congregation within sixty days after the leave is complete. The reports should include the benefits and disappointments for both the minister and the congregation, as well as any recommendations for the future.
- Chair of Elders will prepare the Elders to make calls in the hospital, homes of shut-ins, etc.
- The other pastor(s), Cabinet Moderator, in conjunction with the Personnel Committee, may assume staff supervision as necessary.
- The other pastor(s) or Cabinet Moderator may assume administrative duties such as contact with the Regional Office and interface with outreach programs, etc., as necessary.
- No sabbatical is available to a part-time pastor, student minister or intern.
- The Cabinet will review and approve the pastor's plan ensuring that the goals, objectives and activities meet the pastor's and SECC's needs.

Pastor's Responsibilities

- Announce the intent to request a sabbatical leave, in writing, to the Personnel Committee twelve months before anticipated starting date of the leave.
- Obtain Cabinet approval for specific dates of leave; taking into consideration change in leadership at the beginning of the year, church holidays, and special events. This applies mainly to the senior pastor (with the thought being that it may be difficult to begin a new year with new leadership in the Cabinet with the senior pastor on leave for several months).
- No later than six months before the sabbatical leave, present to the Cabinet the goals and objectives for the proposed sabbatical which shall include plans for study and/or professional development in addition to time for rest and renewal.

- Be prepared to answer questions about the advantages and disadvantages to the congregation of the sabbatical and educate the congregation about unavailability during that time.
- Provide a copy of written documentation and reports on activities engaged in during the sabbatical, the results of those activities, and accomplishments; present this report within six weeks of the end of the sabbatical to the Cabinet and the Board of Elders.

For Reference; General Timeline:

1. Twelve months prior to leave start, pastor submits request to the Personnel Committee with the proposed sabbatical time frame (intent for sabbatical leave).
2. Personnel Committee evaluates the request against the policy and submits to the Cabinet for time frame approval at the upcoming Cabinet meeting.
3. As soon as the “intent for sabbatical leave” is announced by the pastor and approved by Personnel, the Cabinet Moderator and Vice-Moderator will begin appointing a “Sabbatical Team” consisting of five persons who will work with the pastor in determining the needs to be met while the pastor is on leave.
4. Six months prior to the sabbatical start, pastor submits the plan, supported and approved by the Sabbatical Team and addressing the three key objectives to the Cabinet.
5. Start of Sabbatical: Sabbatical Team, Elders and others assume pastor responsibilities.
6. End of Leave + 6 weeks: The pastor submits the evaluation of the sabbatical.
7. End of Leave + 60 days: The Sabbatical Team submits their evaluation and the pastor’s evaluation to the Cabinet. The Cabinet makes the evaluations available to the congregation.
8. Sabbatical Team closes.

Safe Sanctuary Policy

Adopted March 18, 2014

Jesus plainly taught that children were to be included and provided for within the community of faith. (See Luke 18:15-17 and Matthew 18:5-6). Today, the church may be the only place where some children find the unconditional love and care they so desperately need to grow, to thrive, and to become faithful people.

As Christians, we must take our responsibilities to our children (All those under the age of eighteen) very seriously, always attending to their spiritual growth and nurturing. We fail in our responsibilities if we neglect to take adequate precautions against physical abuse in our churches. We must remember that our church is a holy place of sanctuary where children may come to know God and experience the love of Jesus Christ.

South Elkhorn Christian Church will be a place where people of all ages can come together for worship, study, and service, with the assurance that they are safe and secure in the community of faith. Child abuse prevention and risk reduction policies and procedures are essential, not only for the protection and safety of our children but also for our volunteer and employed workers with children.

In response to this church wide challenge, we will work to assure that our ministries are carried out in responsibly safe circumstances and that adequate supervision assures that ministry is being accomplished safely.

Therefore, we will initiate a comprehensive child abuse prevention strategy that applies not only to the paid professional staff members but also to volunteers who work with children and youth.

BASIC PROCEDURES

The Screening of all Workers with children and youth

We will screen, check references, do criminal records checks and make it a requirement for all paid workers to submit all the necessary information, including clergy, who have contact with children or youth.

The “Two-Adult Rule”

No fewer than two adults will be in the presence of the children at all times during any church-sponsored program, event, or ministry involving children and youth. Vigilant adherence to this rule provides important protection to the church’s workers with children and youth and drastically reduces the possibility of an incident of child abuse. Generally, the adults should not be related.

If two adults are not present, we will utilize assigned or paid adult “roamers” who move in and out of rooms, and the door of the room must remain open.

Parental Authorization

It is a requirement that parents use sign-in and sign-out labels in the nursery and take a pager. Parents must return the pager or provide a written permission for someone other than a custodial parent to pick up the child.

Permission slips will be obtained before allowing caregivers with children to administer any medication or over-the-counter topical creams such as sunscreen, lotions, lip balm, etc.

Written permission will be required from parents if their infants are to be placed on their stomachs to sleep.

Accident Report Form

If any child or youth sustains an injury of any kind, it is required of the assigned volunteers or paid workers to fill out an accident report form and to follow procedures for first aid.

Annual Training for Volunteers and Paid Staff

Paid staff, clergy, and volunteers who regularly work with the children will be required to attend an orientation session in which they are informed of the church's policies for the prevention of child abuse. Such training will review the following items:

1. Procedures to be used in all ministries with children and youth
2. Appropriate steps to report an incident of child abuse
3. Details of the state laws regarding child abuse

First aid and CPR training will also be provided on an annual basis for all church workers with children and youth.

Age Restrictions

Workers must be five years older than the oldest child in the group they are working with.

Youth under the age of eighteen may only assist other adults.

The minimum age for volunteering in the nursery will be sixteen.

Windows in All Classrooms/Doors

Rooms set aside for children and youth should have a door with a window in it or a half door.

Open-Door Counseling

At any counseling sessions with children or youth, the door of the room used should remain open for the entire session.

Advance Notice to Parents for Off-Site Activities

For off-site activities, parents are to be given advance notice and full information regarding the event(s) in which their children will be participating. Before the event, parents must give written permission for their child's participation.

Participation Covenant for All Participants and Leaders

A written covenant of participation should be developed and provided to all leaders and participants in children's and youth ministries. The covenant is a statement in which the participants and leaders agree to:

- a) Take part in the ministry
- b) Give their best efforts to the ministry
- c) Respect the other participants
- d) Treat the others as well as they would wish to be treated.

Such covenants are useful (especially for retreats or trips) for establishing from the outset the behavior standards expected of everyone. The covenants are also important reminders for leaders that abusive behavior toward the children and/or youth will not be tolerated.

Annual Parent and Family Education

Information will be provided about this plan to the congregation and parents. An annual family education event will be provided in which families are invited to learn the facts about child sexual abuse and about the components of the church's plan. An event of this type may include:

- a. A speaker from a local law enforcement agency.
- b. A speaker from a local child protective services agency.
- c. A doctor or counselor who is experienced in treating abused children
- d. An attorney experienced in advising churches about risk management or loss prevention
- e. A DVD about the incidence of child sexual abuse within churches
- f. Printed information about your state's abuse statutes and abuse reporting requirements.
- g. Printed copies of the church's abuse prevention policies and procedures (Allow time for discussion).
- h. A time for worship and prayer

An event can also include sessions for children so they are informed about the behavior that is to be expected from church leaders, how to recognize and report possible abuse, and how they can help prevent harm being done to anyone at the church.

Reporting Requirements

To report suspected child abuse, neglect or dependency call the 24-hour hotline at 1-877-597-2331.

All workers with children and youth must be fully aware of their responsibilities under state law and under the church's prevention policies if they become aware of or suspect abuse. When you have reason to believe a child is being abused, neglected or is dependent, call the child protection hotline at 1-877-597-2331 or your county Department for Community Based Services (CBS). If in doubt, it is preferred that you call and talk over what has come to your attention. CBS will help you sort things out, such as whether a specific incident must be reported and to whom. If you feel the child is in imminent danger or is in need of immediate protection, call 911 or your local police department. The safety of the victim is the church's primary concern.

Both civil and criminal immunity from prosecution are given to any person making a report or assisting legal authorities or the child protection program in making an assessment, as long as that person is acting in good faith.

This is the essential information required for a report:

1. The child's identity;
2. Any person believed to be responsible for the abuse or neglect to the child if the person is known;
3. The nature and extent of the abuse or neglect;
4. The name and address of the reporter, if he or she so chooses; and
5. Where the child can be found.

More information about Child Abuse and Neglect can be found at <http://chfs.ky.gov>

A handbook published by the Cabinet for Health and Family Services on these issues is available online at:

Policy Regarding Registered Sex Offenders

In order to enhance the safety of the children, youth and adults in our church, our ministry to registered sex offenders will take place off campus.

Lockdown Procedures

- Fire and tornado drills will be practiced several times a year to develop preparedness.
- All entrances will be secured to prevent trespassing when children and/or youth are in the building.
- Every effort will be made to lead kids who are outside the facility away from the building to a safe location. Leaders will lead kids inside classrooms, offices, or other sites that can be locked, remaining until an all-clear is given.

All forms mentioned above are located in the church offices. The First Aid Kits are located in the kitchen, the nursery, Little Elks office, and in the Children Worship and Wonder room.

Security Policy

Approved September 2012

The purpose of this document is to provide guidance for the security policy and procedures relevant to SECC. Objectives of the policy are to protect members and paid or volunteer personnel while carrying out their SECC-related responsibilities on Church property and to safeguard the physical property of SECC from theft or destruction.

Entry to the church shall be controlled by use of security fobs, which interact with the Church alarm and security system. Fobs may be issued to those church members, staff and volunteers who request them on the form provided and whose specific functions for SECC as described on the form require that they have access to the facility at times when it is secured and agree to abide by the security policy. The security and safety committee (the committee) will examine all requests for fobs and determine, in accord with this policy, if the granting of a fob is necessary and appropriate. Individuals whose requests for a fob are not approved by the committee may appeal to the cabinet. The committee will review the list of all individuals possessing fobs at least yearly, and recover or inactivate fobs from individuals who have left or whose responsibilities have changed and no longer justify possessing a fob.

Fobs may be issued to groups or entities that rent our facilities on a recurring basis, subject to their executing a security agreement to refrain from propping doors open during their use of the facility and securing the building when they depart. Gratis use of the church facilities by outside groups requires that a church member be a part of and act as a sponsor of that group and assume responsibility for group observance of security procedures.

Additional Rules & Responsibilities

- Individuals losing their fob will have to pay a fee of $15.00 before a new fob is issued.
- The committee will arrange for training for all fob holders, e.g. how the fobs function, things not to do, whom to call when things don't work, etc.
- Trained individuals assigned fobs that subsequently trigger the alarm system will be retrained and any additional violations will result in inactivation and recovery of the fob.
- The committee will arrange for opening and securing the Church Sunday mornings, and arrange for safety inspections of our physical plant.
- The committee will oversee the alarm contract, develop a system to identify and remedy gaps in our security and safety systems, oversee the fire prevention maintenance contract, and develop an evacuation plan for the buildings.

GUIDELINES FOR POSTING SIGNS ON CHURCH PROPERTY
South Elkhorn Christian Church

1. All interior and exterior signage on church property must be approved by the Communications Committee, with the Church Cabinet serving as the appeal body.
2. Design and text for all exterior signs must be presented in advance to the Communications Committee. A rough design is required. Preliminary art is preferred.
3. Requests must be approved at least one month prior to start date.
4. Outdoor signage will be limited to 4 x 8 banners at the Main Entrance and/or above the entrance to the Christian Ministry Center. Small, temporary “yard” signs may be approved on a limited basis.
5. 4 x 8 banners at the Main Entrance may only be posted using the permanent frame unless exceptions are made by the Communications Committee.
6. Only one sign will be posted at the Main Entrance at a time. More than one event may be posted on each 4 x 8 banner. Please present artwork so the banner can be seen as a whole.
7. Signs for the Main Entrance must be professionally produced on 4’ x 8’ canvas or comparable material. Grommets at the four corners and center top are required.

Three-Bid Policy

Adopted March 26, 2013

The Cabinet shall obtain at least three bids for all work over $1000. For longer-term contracts, the Cabinet will review them and determine the frequency of rebidding (2-5) years as a general guideline). All bids should conform with a sealed bid policy, and Cabinet will award all bid/contracts by a majority vote. Bids/contracts will not necessarily be awarded to the lowest bidder – they will be awarded to the best bidder as determined by Cabinet. The requirement for three bids may be waived depending upon the circumstances, i.e. whether the work is an emergency and/or other vendors are not willing to bid on the project.”

Clarification was provided on “sealed bid policy”: a bidder’s proposal will not be shared with other bidders.

Wedding Service Policy

Approved December 15, 2015

1. Scheduling of weddings on church grounds, including the Historic Sanctuary or Christian Ministry Center (CMC) shall be only after conferring with the wedding team and determining if the facilities and pastors are available.

3. See section on “Financial Arrangements.”
4. If piano or organ music is desired (available in both sanctuaries), the couple will be responsible for securing a pianist/organist on their own. The piano and organ are not allowed to be moved from their space. Microphones may be provided for the ceremony and/or reception.

18. Wedding coordinators expanded services are negotiable.

19. See Exhibit A – South Elkhorn Christian Church Wedding Fees & Arrangements for additional details. Exhibit A is part of this Policy, but can be modified at any time by the SECC Finance Committee.

Marriage Ministry Policy

South Elkhorn Christian church has adopted the following guidelines for our ministry to couples (no restrictions on gender) preparing for marriage.

One of the pastors will meet with each couple to extend the hospitality of our congregation and to assess the needs and desires of the couple wishing to be married. The pastor will have the flexibility in planning the best ministry to the couple and will make available to the couple the following resources:

- In most cases, the pastor will be available for several sessions of premarital counseling. If the pastor is not available, the couple may be referred to other counselors or mentors.

- A pre-marital inventory called the “PREPARE Inventory and Mentoring Program” is available to the couple. This on-line inventory covers such topics as communication, conflict resolution, financial management, children, parenting, and more. The results of the inventory will be given to mentors who will then have several sessions with the couple to discuss items in the inventory. Several couples within SECC are trained to use the “PREPARE Inventory” and couples are strongly encouraged to take advantage of the resource. There is a one-time processing fee for the inventory.
- The pastor will meet with the couple as many times as necessary to adequately plan the details of the wedding ceremony.

The marriage license shall be in the hands of the pastor prior to the wedding to complete information required and to obtain signatures of two witnesses. It is suggested that it be given to the pastor no later than the rehearsal. One part is returned to the couple and the other part returned to the County Court Clerk by the pastor.

South Elkhorn Christian Church Wedding Fees & Arrangements

- In order to reserve facilities for a wedding, a security deposit of $500 must be received along with this signed form. The security deposit will be returned when the facilities are cleaned and restored to the original condition. Should SECC incur any additional/unplanned expenses as a result of this event, SECC may deduct those expenses before returning the balance of the security deposit.
- Total fees will be paid two weeks prior to the wedding.
- If the event is cancelled within a 48-hour notification, all but the security deposit will be refunded.

Elders Ministry

at South Elkhorn Christian Church

As stated in the Articles of Incorporation:

7. The Elders are responsible to the Congregation and are ordained for life. They will provide a regular channel of communication for cultivating an open, affirmative and creative relationship between the Pastor(s) and the Congregation, enabling the church to fulfill its mission effectively, help the Pastor(s) achieve those goals throughout the year, and discuss with the Pastor(s) special needs of the Congregation as such needs are brought to their attention. Along with the Ministry Area Leaders and members of the Congregation, they shall participate in the evaluation of the Senior Pastor and Associate Pastor(s) at least annually. They shall cooperate with the Pastor(s) in a program of recruitment of youth for service.

Active elders shall offer communion table prayers as assigned and shall take communion to the homebound members. They shall meet at least quarterly to evaluate work and for fellowship and prayer. There shall be twenty-six (26) active elders in service at any one time. Elders not currently in active service shall be considered inactive. Elders serve a two-year term followed by a one year sabbatical. Elders not currently in active service shall be considered inactive. Any new ministry will be guided and nurtured in its formative stage by this group of elders. Once the new ministry is established, it will be assigned to the appropriate Mission Area and will be nurtured by that Ministry Area Leader.

Elders may also serve as shepherds for members of SECC:

The Shepherding Ministry is a program of elders who serve as an additional layer of pastoral care; it is not intended to replace care provided by the pastors. The purpose of this ministry is to tend to the spiritual welfare of believers over time by watching over, guiding, and nurturing them. Here at SECC, elders serve as shepherds and each member (sheep) of the congregation is assigned to one specific shepherd. Shepherds strive to love, serve, lead by example, and equip their “sheep” in a variety of ways.

As written in SECC Member Guide:

Description: Provides channel of communication between congregation and pastors. Elders also serve as shepherds for members of SECC. The Shepherding Ministry is a program of elders who serve as an additional layer of pastoral care; it is not intended to replace care provided by the pastors. The purpose of this ministry is to tend to the spiritual welfare of believers over time by watching over, guiding, and nurturing them. Here at SECC, elders serve as shepherds and each member (sheep) of the congregation is assigned to one specific shepherd. Shepherds strive to love, serve, lead by example, and equip their “sheep” in a variety of ways.

A general list of current duties:

1. Preside at the table quarterly for communion and offering (exceptions exist for this duty).

2. Shepherd a flock--anywhere from 2-10 families (all elders are encouraged to participate in this ministry).
3. Meet the 2nd Thursday of each month at 7 PM for 90' (for prayer concerns, spiritual study, and discussion of important church issues).
4. Deliver homebound communion approximately once a year.
5. Be a spiritual and practical leader within the church.

Elders Are: (mostly from Disciples Eldership by Peter Morgan)

Elders are Teachers: Through word, commandments, and example of life they lead people to know what God's revelation of himself in Jesus Christ is. By their teaching they safeguard the church. By prayer they help people to discover what the Christian gospel means in their lives. Elders give stability to the church through spiritual and moral guidance, presiding in worship, and serving as guardians of the faith.

Elders are Shepherds: 1 Peter 5:1-4 So I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ as well as a partaker in the glory that is to be revealed. Tend the flock of God that is your charge, not by constraint but willingly, not for shameful gain but eagerly, not as domineering over those in your charge but being examples to the flock. And when the chief shepherd is manifested, you will obtain the unfading crown of glory.

Ways to Serve as a Shepherd

1. Seek out your "sheep" each Sunday for conversation.
2. Send cards to family members (i.e. birthday, anniversary, Christmas, Valentine's Day etc.)
3. Email occasionally.
4. Call monthly or every so often.
5. Ask for prayer concerns, so you can make them part of your daily prayers.
6. Visit them when they are sick or in the hospital.
7. Invite them over for dinner or dessert.
8. Find out their interests & see if you have some things in common to share: gardening, cooking, sports, hiking, landscaping, cars, knitting, activities in the church, children, grandkids, hunting, etc.
9. Be present at times of distress: ill health, loss of job, death in family, etc.
10. Invite them to join you in various church activities: Sunday School, VBS, Fall Festival, Keenagers, Consignment Sale, Drive Through Bethlehem, small groups, etc.

11. Contact families immediately if there is a change in attendance pattern to help prevent dropouts.
12. Attend training to develop skills as a shepherd.
13. Call on each family once a year with no objective except to build a relationship with them and to listen.

Elders Contribute to the Growing Wisdom and Knowledge of the Congregation: through their experiences, prayers, and spiritual growth.

Elders are Learners: growing through Bible Study, spiritual study, prayer, reading, and experience. The four areas of learning for elders are: Bible Study, Worship Leaders & Shepherds, Identity with the Larger Church, and Ideas for Faithful Mission (through vivid perception of mission and development of a mission statement).

Elders are Spiritual and Practical Servant Leaders: who serve the church, the congregation, and the community. Through the above practices they strive to serve as spiritual and human reflections of Christ. Through prayer and community with other elders they are sharers of vision by dreaming and seeing potential new directions. In practical ways they assist the church in raising money, recruiting volunteers, participating in church events, teaching, and maintaining our church property. Through rest and prayer they are reenergized in their faith.

A Brief History of Elders in the Bible and the Disciples of Christ

(primarily from Disciples Eldership by Peter Morgan)

The first century church had no central organization or direction; Christianity was spread by an enthusiastic and committed membership of mostly unnamed men and women. They were not divided into clergy or laity. No priestly class stood between the people and God. Christ was called “the high priest” who through his sacrifice on the cross mediated between God and humanity. All of its members were described as a “royal priesthood” (1 Peter 2:9), and all shared in the general ministry of the church.

Within this general ministry were individuals who had been given certain talents and abilities that fitted them for special ministries: apostles, prophets, teachers, miracle workers, healers, helpers, administrators, speakers in tongues, exhorters, contributors, evangelists, pastors, preachers, bishops, elders, deacons, counselors, and more (Romans 12, 1 Corinthians 12, and Ephesians 4). These ministries were sometimes recognized by a service of ordination which involved fasting, prayer, and a laying on of hands. To ordain people was to acknowledge that they had a call from God, had special gifts or abilities, and were accepted by the church (Acts 13: 1-3). Ordination included a commitment and a consecration which conferred a special blessing or grace. This ordination was not a license to rule but an opportunity to serve.

These elders were the teachers of the congregation. Through word, commandments, and example of life they led the people to know what God’s revelation of himself in Jesus Christ actually was. By their teaching they safeguarded the churches against heresies. By prayer they helped their people to discover what the Christian gospel meant in their moral lives. As the church struggled increasingly with problems of order and heresy, it relied more and more on the stability provided by councils of elders, who gave spiritual and moral guidance, presided in worship, and served as guardians of the faith.

In 1 Timothy, 2 Timothy, and Titus considerable information is given about leadership in the church. Titus was told to “appoint elders in every town” (Titus 1:5). In 1 Timothy 3: 1-7 a description of the ideal elder states that the elder should be above reproach, the husband of one wife, temperate, sensible, dignified, hospitable (preachers, prophets, and apostles of the early church traveled frequently), an apt teacher, no drunkard, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, and no lover of money. Furthermore, the elder should be a good manager of the household, keep his children submissive, not be a recent convert, and should be well thought of outside the church. Such legalism contradicts the basic gospel teaching that all Christians fall short, and are saved by the mercy and grace of God rather than by any righteousness of their own (Romans 1:16-17). Those who think they measure up to this character standard are probably guilty of conceit. Reflecting the particular life situation in which it was written this very high standard of character should be taken seriously, but not literally.

Within the young Christian churches, women, such as Lydia, Priscilla, and Dorcas, provided significant leadership. Such leadership by church women was without parallel in history and apparently was disquieting to those men who believed in the patriarchalism of the time.

When Alexander Campbell, a founder of the Disciples, helped formulate our church’s view on ministry, he noted three orders of ministry: Evangelists—started congregations and evangelized; Deacons—cared for church property, received, accounted, distributed offerings, and visited the sick; Elders—taught, shepherded, and guided the congregation.

Ronald Osborn summarizes our tradition of eldership: The office of ministry in a Christian congregation rested primarily in the eldership, a select body of upright men ordained to preside over the life of the church, to exercise pastoral oversight, to teach the word of God, to maintain discipline, to minister at the table, and to set an example to the flock. In a given congregation most, if not all, of these men earned their living at secular vocations. But they were appointed to minister in the church of God.

In the early years of the 19th century a new society was being carved out of the wilderness along with some characteristic attitudes and values. Among these were a love of freedom, a respect for the individual, a pragmatic approach to problems, a suspicion of intellectuals, and a democratic spirit. On the religious side existed a reverence for the Bible, a strain of anti-clericalism, a tendency towards civil government, and a heightened regard for lay leadership in the church. They adopted as a slogan the statement of Meldenius, a Christian humanist of the 17th century, “In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity.”

Alexander Campbell believed that the elders should be selected by the congregation and ordained to serve in the special ministry of teaching, ruling, guarding, shepherding, and leading in worship. The elders ministered primarily to those inside the congregation. The elders taught, led, and ruled as non-professionals. Elders were generally ordained to their office by other elders. Ordination was usually for life, and it concerned ministry only in the ordaining congregation. No one could be self-appointed to the office of elder; this appointment could only be done by a congregation. The elders were laymen who served without pay and with no theological education but with gifts of faith and natural ability that were recognized by the congregation.

This commission was carried out with such effectiveness that the Disciples movement in the 19th century became one of the fastest growing movements in the United States, increasing from a handful in 1804 to roughly a million by the end of the century.

In the 1950's women began to be elected to serve as elders in Disciples congregations. They have brought a new seriousness, grace, and sensitivity to the celebration of the Lord's Supper and the pastoral ministry of the church.

In spite of all the changes some elements continue to remain important for our elders: character, integrity, a model for Christian behavior, spiritual guidance, and pastoral care. No one person can fulfill all the responsibilities that go with being an elder. The treasures of the Christian faith are contained in earthen vessels, and all are dependent upon the grace of God.

* Serves at table only

 Serves Homebound only

Communion Serving Procedure For Elders

STAGE

The serving elders and deacons walk to the back of the sanctuary when the minister leaves the Communion table at the beginning of the hymn of Communion.

Deacons and elders form two rows at the back of the church in the center aisle. Deacons in back, Elders in front.

Start down the aisle at the beginning of the second verse of the Communion hymn (traditionally there are two verses to this hymn).

Elders proceed to the Communion table and the deacons walk to the side serving tables, standing and facing the front of the tables.

The elders recite the words of institution and their individual prayers.

Bread:

The Lord Jesus, on the night he was betrayed, took bread. When he had given thanks he broke it and said, "This is my body which is for you. Do this in remembrance of me."

Cup:

After supper, Jesus took the cup saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this as often as you drink it in remembrance of me. For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup you proclaim the Lord's death until He comes.

After the "cup" elder finishes his/her individual prayer, both elders proceed to the serving tables providing the element trays to the deacons. Elders should take the element lids and place each on the outside of the table (opposite sides). Serving the deacons should be done in the following order:

- Give the bread plates first ... serving towards the center (deacon 1, then 2, then 3)
- Give the cup plates next ... serving towards the center as noted above.

Elders sit down and are served communion by deacons #1. The other deacons should remain in place until the elders are served. When the serving deacons have finished, then all deacons turn and proceed to serve the congregation.

When all the elements have been passed to the congregation, the deacons gather at the back of the sanctuary in the center aisle and proceed as a group down the aisle: Deacon 3, make sure there are enough cups to serve communion to the serving deacons.

The elders rise as the deacons approach the Communion table.

The deacons return to their original position in front of the elders. The elders will take the trays from deacon 1 and deacon 2 stacking them on the table. The elder then takes the bread and wine tray from deacon #3 and serves the bread and cup to deacon #1, then deacon #2, and deacon #3 last. The deacons should return their cup to the tray before communion is offered to the next deacon.

The elders stack the remaining elements and place the lids on each stack making sure the crosses face the congregation. Elders and Deacons remain in this position, awaiting offering.

OFFERING PROCEDURE

Elders pick up the offering baskets and hold them while the worship leader recites the Call to Offering.

At the conclusion of the Call to Offering, the elder hands the baskets to deacons 1, 2 and 3 in that order. Deacons wait until all baskets have been distributed; then deacons #3 queue off, and all deacons enter the congregation. The elders then sit down.

After the offering plates have been collected, deacons gather in the back center aisle; deacons 2 and 3 give their baskets to deacon #1. Deacons #1 walk to the front at the beginning of the Doxology.

Baskets are handed simultaneously back to the elders. The elders place the baskets on the stage.

At the end of worship leader's offertory prayer, Deacons #1 should follow the elders down the center aisle. The elders should remain at the back of the church to greet people as they leave the service.

Homebound Communion Procedures

Elders/Deacons Meeting After Church:

1. Elders/deacons should pick up their homebound communion folders and communion kits in the communion prep room located to the left of the stage in the CMC (as you face the stage) immediately following the church service. Folders are in the left drawer.
2. Upon gathering folders and kits, elders/deacons should proceed to the church office to discuss homebound assignments. One elder should contact Mickey or Holly to see if additional members should be added to the visit. Then, an elder should call members on the list to see if they desire to be served communion that day.
3. Generally, elders/deacons will deliver homebound communion to members living closest to the elders'/deacons' residences, working out an equitable number for each elder/deacon. However, serving elders/deacons are free to create their own mutually agreeable schedule. Please note—deacons will always be accompanied by an elder.
4. If an elder is doing homebound communion for the first time, he/she should accompany an elder for his/her first experience, shadowing the elder.

Guidelines for Elders/Deacons Serving Communion to Homebound Members:

1. Greet your member (Ask the member if you can turn off distractions such as TV, radio, etc.; close door if outside noises are disturbing to conversation). If a member is asleep, ask nurse or caregiver if it's okay to wake the member.
2. Talk and get acquainted with your member for a few minutes; ask how things are going. Learn more about your member. Try to connect with member's past church experiences. Consider taking a bulletin from the service and talking about the service. Key points from the church message can be shared. Also, you might read a biblical passage (i.e. the Old or New Testament scripture reading from the day's church service). Consider asking easy questions such as: favorite hymns and bible stories. Ask for any prayer requests. These ideas can ease the transition to the communion service.
3. Ask if they are ready to be given communion.
4. The elder delivers the words of institution (if a deacon is present, he/she serves the elements to the member):

Recite the words for the bread first, and let the member partake of the bread.

Bread:

The Lord Jesus, on the night he was betrayed, took bread. When he had given thanks he broke it and said, "This is my body which is for you. Do this in remembrance of me."

Recite the words for the cup next, and let the member partake of the cup.

Cup:

After supper, Jesus took the cup saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this as often as you drink it in remembrance of me. For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup you proclaim the Lord's death until He comes.

5. Say a closing prayer.
6. Wrap up your meeting with a short conversation, and say how nice it was to meet and talk with the person.
7. Say goodbye.

Other Issues Involved with Homebound Communion Procedures:

1. Swallowing issues: if you notice the person having issues with swallowing, allow the person to remove the bread from his/her mouth and dispose. Proceed with general procedures without the bread and/or grape juice.
2. Time spent with visit: should be around 20'; this allows time to get acquainted and talk with your member. Furthermore, many of these people are very ill and cannot handle long visits. Some elders may wish to visit longer, but extreme consideration and sensitivity should be given to the needs and physical limitations of the member.
3. Please clean communion kits before returning them to the CMC. Dispose of used cups, extra bread, and juice. Clean the juice bottle and bread holder.
4. Please return homebound communion folders and communion kits as soon as possible to the communion prep room in the CMC, or no later than the following Tuesday (if this is not possible, call Secretary for assistance). This is very important, as we have had problems in the past with people not returning the folders and kits in a timely manner.
5. All homebound documents are stored on the church computer if any information is lost from these folders. Secretary will also send out these documents in her reminder notices to you the week that you are to serve.
6. Pastor and Secretary will work weekly to provide a current list of names, addresses, and phone numbers of those needing homebound communion. The list will be placed in the homebound communion folders.

Pastoral Relations Committee

Approved October 2010

PASTORAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE (A DEFINITION): is a small group of persons who provide support for the pastor and provide a regular channel of communication between the pastor and the congregation.

JUSTIFICATIONS FOR A PASTORAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Building up the Body of Christ—the church is the body of Christ knit together for mutual up-building of life. The responsibility calls for sensitive care and careful discernment regarding what is beneficial, and is to be exercised in a humble and loving way.

Support—to provide focused, consistent support for the pastor. Ministry is a high stress profession. High levels of personal and congregational expectations contribute to the need for support. As a primary care-giver, the pastor needs a supportive environment for renewal. All human beings need the love and support of others. Personal growth and level of functioning depend to a great extent upon the quality of support received. The PRC gives the congregation a way to be intentional about providing support for its pastor and family.

Some of the work related factors contributing to clergy stress:

- Role ambiguity—uncertainty about job duties
- Role conflict—clash between pastoral duties and personal and/or family life
- Role overload—being overwhelmed by expectations of parishioners
- Time demands—constantly being thrown off schedule by unexpected issues
- Lack of pastoral care—not having a good counselor to turn to with your own problems
- Lack of opportunities to “de-role”—to be taken care of yourself for a change
- Relocation—to a new area or job
- Career uncertainty—knowing your future may depend upon how you get along in one parish
- Loneliness—the fact that few outside the ministry understand the job demands that tend to make one feel isolated even in the midst of commitment
- Changing social patterns, demographic transitions, marginalization of the church, and conflicting beliefs also contribute to pastoral stress and impact the pastor's family life.

Feedback and Communication—to provide a regular channel of communication for building an open, affirming, and creative relationship between the pastor and congregation to better fulfill the church's mission. Communication is vital to providing support.

Regular meetings help to maintain relationships at an optimal level. A regular schedule prevents the PRC from becoming a crisis management group. With regular feedback and sharing the PRC prevents major crises and helps build trust, which is crucial to a healthy functioning ministry.

Studies show that the PRC is valued even more highly by PRC members than by the pastor. Because the pastor can be vulnerable in this process, PRC members and the pastor need to keep in mind the "unevenness" of the relationship and the process.

FOUNDATIONS OF THE PASTORAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Acceptance—the church is created and sustained in God's grace and unconditional love. Even in our weaknesses, we are affirmed. The PRC represents this love and grace to the pastor. It does not mean "my pastor, right or wrong" in the sense of being above reproach. Neither does acceptance mean placing the pastor on a pedestal or having idealized expectations of her/him. Accepting and working together with the pastor in a climate of trust to fulfill the ministry is the goal.

Trust—is fundamental to ministry and particularly to the workings of the PRC. Trust involves mutual acceptance and respect. Self-disclosures of the pastor should be received and cared for in a way that upholds a person's dignity and protects a person's privacy. It calls for integrity in sharing. It means opening one's life, overcoming the fear of violation, and fostering relations of trust in order to be as supportive and as open as possible to one another.

Confidentiality—gives a person the assurance that one's self-disclosure will not be revealed. This is essential to building and maintaining trust. Confidentiality means safeguarding information determined to be "classified" by the PRC as a sacred trust. This means not revealing information even to a spouse/partner. It also involves the willingness to let a person be who she or he is and to guarantee privacy.

FUNCTIONS OF A PASTORAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE

The PRC's focus is relational as opposed to being a task-centered group. It will give attention to feelings and emotional factors of ministry in building up the body of Christ.

Listening—is a vital part of ministry. Listening is not merely a means to an end, or an instrument to achieve a goal; rather listening is a presence and an affirmation of another. Listening is the essence of ministry. Active listening consists of paying close attention to feelings and body language. It consists of attention to the manner as well as the content of what is heard. It means careful discernment and follow-up questions in order to fully understand what is being shared. Active listening involves checking one's perceptions by repeating to the speaker what was heard.

Support (the Three C's)

Comfort: involves affirmations and expressions of care, appreciation, and acceptance.

Clarification: involves integration of information, development of a holistic picture, differentiating the relevant from the irrelevant and giving focus to matters.

Constructive Criticism: some people are hesitant to criticize and some others are not always constructive in their criticism. It means offering critical appraisal on matters of concern, or biblically speaking, to "speak the truth in love."

FORMAT FOR A PASTORAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE

The format keeps the PRC's purposes intact and focused. Following is a suggested format. The pastor is to be present at all PRC meetings.

Opening Prayer and/or Brief Meditation

The chairperson could do this or request members to share in this responsibility on a rotating basis.

Sharing of Affirmations

PRC members share anecdotes, praise, or affirming words for the pastor's ministry.

Pastor's Sharing

The pastor is given the opportunity to share whatever is on her/his heart or mind.

Below are some possible sharing techniques:

Successes: Whatever the pastor considers to be a success is shared.

Surprises: Anything that has been or is a surprise in the life of the congregation or the ministry.

Satisfactions: What has given the pastor satisfaction, even though it may not be seen as a success?

Solutions: What are the challenges the pastor is facing? Are there problems to which she/he is seeking solutions? Are there theological matters that are challenging the pastor that she/he is working out in his/her mind?

Sadness: Are there losses, hurts, etc., which are occasions for personal or congregational grief?

Note: the pastor does not disclose any information that has been shared with him/her in counseling or other confidential sessions with members.

PRC Sharing

PRC members share feedback and concerns.

Special Focus

If the meeting has a special focus, it should be addressed at this point. The Sharing items may be shortened if this area needs more time. It is recommended that special focus items be limited to two or three per year.

Next Meeting

Announce and verify the date and time of the next meeting.

Closing Prayer

The chairperson, or another member, closes the meeting with prayer.

FREQUENCY AND LENGTH OF PASTORAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The PRC will meet quarterly, or as needed, to maintain continuity and a regular outlet for support and feedback.

Informal meetings and gatherings are encouraged to promote more social interaction and building of relationships with the pastors. These meetings can occur individually, in smaller groups, or with the entire PRC and pastor's spouses.

Regularly scheduled meetings, convened and chaired by the chairperson, maximize the effectiveness of the PRC. It is recommended that the PRC not meet just prior to other meetings or worship services.

90 minutes is a sufficient length for a PRC meeting. Respect this schedule; it will contribute to an effective PRC.

DEALING WITH COMPLAINTS

The PRC is not designed to function as a "grievance committee." However, it should not ignore negative feelings or the emotional climate within the congregation. Being sensitive to feelings assures each person of her/his value and importance.

Supporting direct communication in the congregation is the role of the PRC. This enhances communication and prevents the PRC from becoming a "lightning rod" for complaints. The PRC encourages people to relate directly to others, or to the pastor, with a complaint or a concern. For example, if someone shares a matter with a PRC member, that member should listen attentively. After the matter is shared, the PRC member asks, "Have you shared this with _____?" (the person who shared the concern). If the reply is no, then the PRC member is to advise that person to talk with the individual directly. However, if the person has met directly and has encountered resistance or has been stifled, then the PRC member may agree to bring the matter to the PRC. Permission from, and identification of the people involved, are necessary to address matters most effectively.

How the PRC handles complaints is an extremely important element. The key to dealing with feelings is active listening.

Elements of active listening include:

- Openness to hearing
- Attempt to understand the feelings being expressed
- Ability to state the feeling
- Non-defensive behavior

The PRC should not be a pressure group to get the pastor to behave in a certain way. PRC members should listen attentively to people, but must make judgments about the relative significance of the input: whether to advise the person in another direction, whether to enter it in the PRC agenda, or whether to inform the pastor prior to the meeting.

CONFLICT MANAGEMENT

The PRC is not designed to be a crisis management team, although it may be called upon to help handle a crisis from time to time. The PRC is more of a “safety valve.” Regular meetings, support and feedback, are designed to avoid major crises. If major conflicts arise in the congregation, it is advised that either a regional/area staff minister or other professional resource person be consulted to provide conflict management.

COMPOSITION AND ORGANIZATION OF THE PASTORAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Cabinet-approved: The PRC is already functioning and approved by the Cabinet. This document will be used for operations and procedures but does not need to be included in the by-laws.

Size of the PRC: A PRC should be relatively small. An optimum number would be three people, in addition to the pastor. This number ensures good group interaction and possible participation from all members. A smaller committee is also easier to convene. At this juncture SECC will have three members. All PRC members should make attendance at meeting a high priority, since low attendance can hurt its effectiveness. Also, a small group makes it easier to maintain a high trust level. Moreover, confidentiality is more easily protected.

Selection of PRC members: Because of its special nature, it is more appropriate to select its members by appointment rather than through formal nominating and election processes. The committee will select its own chairperson at its first meeting (someone other than the pastor). The committee may want to rotate the chairperson on an annual basis. The PRC, in consultation with the pastors, will appoint new members.

Qualifications for members:

- A member must be an elder of South Elkhorn Christian Church.

- Important characteristics include:

 - Persons who are supportive of the pastor with sensitivity to the feelings and needs of both congregation and pastor

 - Persons who are good listeners

 - Persons with skills in human relations and communications

 - Persons who have integrity with regard to maintaining confidentiality

 - Men and women of mixed ages

Length of term: Rotation of members enables new perspectives to enter the process. Maintaining continuity is also important. The search committee may serve as the PRC for the first year following the call of a new pastor until a new committee can be established. Members will generally serve two-year terms. In establishing the first PRC, three members have served uneven terms to set into motion a workable rotation. After the first PRC is established, all new members will serve two-year terms. When the pastor leaves the congregation, the PRC would cease to function. With a three member PRC, membership will be composed of the following: one member nominated by the pastor; one member nominated by the associate pastor; and an at-large member nominated by the chair to replace himself/herself. The PRC chair will contact those nominated to determine their willingness to serve.

Rotation of the PRC will generally work as follows: One year there will be two new PRC members; the following year there will be only one new member. There is an expectation that a member who is in their second year of service would serve as chair. Here is an illustration of how it will work in the transition with Janie Fields (J) serving as the chair in 2011; chairs will be noted in capital letters. New members will be illustrated by letters of the alphabet.

2011	J	a	b
2012	c	A	b
2013	C	d	e
2014	f	D	e
2015	F	g	h
2016	i	G	h

The above is an example with capital letters denoting chairpersons. Chairpersons usually volunteer for the task of leading the PRC.

Integration of new members: Every new member needs to be informed of the duties of the PRC. An annual or biennial training session is an excellent way to equip and integrate new members and/or regular members. The regional staff minister, or another resource person, can conduct the training session.

Relationship of the PRC to the Cabinet and Congregation: Because of the requirements of trust, acceptance, and confidentiality, the PRC will not report the substance of its meetings to the elders or the Cabinet. It is appropriate to make only process reports to the Cabinet. Minutes of the PRC are not required. Certain other tasks may be assigned to the PRC by the congregation or its Cabinet. The PRC must avoid solving problems or performing tasks that belong to other groups. While it is appropriate for the PRC to discuss virtually any subject, it must avoid assuming authority beyond its intended purpose. However, the PRC, in special instances, may recommend certain actions to appropriate groups within the church.

Congregations with multiple staff: The PRC will provide support for each pastor on staff; however, each pastor will meet with the PRC in separate, confidential sessions.

Special focus items: From time to time it may be appropriate to give special attention to certain matters of ministry. Such items might include:

Continuing Education: discuss goals, plans, and financial provision; sabbatical leave.

Projecting Goals: have the pastor develop mid-range, annual, and long term goals.

Celebration of Anniversaries: ordination anniversary, term of service, birthdays, wedding anniversaries, week of ministry, etc. are appropriate occasions for celebration. Care and attention to these events is encouraged.

PRC Training: the PRC may arrange to spend time developing skills in areas such as active listening, conflict management, stress management, etc. Spiritual Growth: the PRC and the pastor are encouraged to talk about theological perspectives. This can open up areas for significant mutual sharing. Sharing one's life journey is another way to focus spiritual growth.

Pastoral Weekly Routine: have the pastor present an outline of a week or a month in her/his ministry as a way to talk about priorities and time management, or as simply a way to inform and educate the PRC.

Spouse Participation: some spouses may occasionally attend PRC meetings. Some spouses may meet only once annually with the PRC. This arrangement should be worked out to mutual satisfaction. One possibility is a "night out" in more of an affirming social setting rather than a meeting. Some PRC's routinely have at least one social meeting per year that includes a meal together. Family matters may be shared in these sessions.

RESOURCES AVAILABLE TO ASSIST THE PRC IN FULFILLING ITS ROLE

It is advisable to anticipate the need for PRC resources in the church budget; consideration may be given to a budget line item for the PRC. In this way the PRC may begin to develop a library of resources for itself with the church library. For further resources, consult the Revised Guidelines for the Pastoral Relations Committee, revised, April 2003, a document for the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) published by the Office of Search and Call at Disciples Home Missions. A copy of this document will remain on file at the SECC church office.

Deacon Ministry

The Diaconate refers collectively to the office of Deacons and Deaconesses (women Deacons). Diakonia is the Greek word for serve or ministry. The Diaconate is a group of people who serve.

The South Elkhorn Christian Church Deacon Ministry serves under the Worship Ministry Area. Deacons prepare for and serve at the Communion Table for regular and special worship services and also serve during offering. They also assist with homebound communion and may also serve as Ministry Team Leaders in any of the areas of ministry. They assist the Pastor(s), Ministers, and Elders in other aspects of Worship as needed and help to provide a conducive atmosphere for Worship. Deacons will discuss with the Pastor(s) special needs of the members of the congregation as such needs are brought to their attention. Deacons will have meetings as needed.

Deacons are officers that must be active members and give evidence of seeking to grow in their own understanding and practice of the Christian life. Such evidence should include the following:

- Promotion of good will and Christian fellowship in the congregation and community.
- Regular attendance at the Worship services and meetings of this congregation.
- Willingness to fulfill assignments on behalf of the Congregation.
- Demonstration of skills or evident potential in carrying out responsibilities of the particular office.

At the Lord's Table Deacons are God's servants who bring to the people the gift of Christ. In bread and wine we reveal the broken body and spilled blood of our Lord Jesus Christ for them. The moment of receiving may be a time of heightened awareness of God's forgiveness and infinite love for them. It has been known to transform people's lives as they taste the bread and lift the cup to their lips.

Deacons serve at the Lord's Table where Christ is present. You share with worshippers the reality of the resurrected Lord who is made known to us in the breaking of the bread. Communion reminds the congregation that they are not facing life and its difficulties alone, but with Jesus who is with his Church.

Deacons serve spiritual food for renewal and vitality. This is the food of the Spirit which empowers the people of God to participate with Christ in his saving work in the world.

When you pass the Communion elements to people you are offering them the grace of God, the Presence of Christ, and the participation in the life of Jesus at work in the world.

THUMBNAIL HISTORY OF DIACONATE

What is the Diaconate?

Diaconate refers collectively to the office of deacons and deaconesses. Diakonia is the Greek word for service or ministry. The diaconate, therefore, is a group of people who serve.

Why did the Diaconate come about?

We read in Acts 6:1-6 how seven deacons were chosen to serve food to the widows of the Christian community so the apostles could spend more time teaching and preaching.

What did Deacons do in the early church?

Deacons were assistants to the bishop and served the physical needs of the congregation.

Deacons were like an associate minister at the end of the first century.

They--

- officiated at religious ceremonies
- baptized
- preached
- read scriptures
- gathered and administered funds
- assisted in distribution of Communion
- ministered to the sick
- served as liaison between bishop and congregation
- served as usher
- served as secretary and scribe to the bishop.

What about women Deacons?

The Order of Widows and Order of Virgins were involved in worship, education, and service in the church. The Order of Deaconesses evolved out of these groups.

At the Council of Nicaea, 325 A.D., women were declared laity. This removed them from leadership in worship.

What about the Disciples of Christ view of Deacon?

Alexander Campbell saw church office not as an opportunity for special privilege, but a responsibility for service. Campbell suggested three offices:

1. Bishop - (elder) is spiritual head of church
2. Deacon - who was responsible for church property, collection and distribution, offering, and ministry to the poor.
3. Evangelist - who was sent by a church into the world to preach the gospel and establish converts and churches.

Elders and deacons, though laity, were set apart ministers to the congregations. They preached and served communion.

Elder role declined with full-time paid pastors (1900) and deacon role declined with establishment of function departments (1946).

Disciples are encouraging the renewal of the Diaconate to once again serve as lay ministers to the church.

THE SPIRIT OF THE DIACONATE

A SPIRIT OF LOVE

This is probably the most important of the characteristics. All that the Deacon does must be done in love: love of God, love of other people, love of the responsibilities and love of one's self. It should be evident within the life of the individual that the person has an abiding relationship with God and that the relationship with God is marked by a spirit of love. If this relationship is properly in place, the other parts should easily come into being. As a creation of God you must regard your own body, mind and soul as God's own and therefore take care of yourself as a steward of creation. Only when our own bodies, minds and souls are being properly cared for and properly used, can we approach our relationship with others in a healthy way. Once we have developed our relationships with God and ourselves, we are capable of loving and caring for others. This is what some have termed an "out-loving nature." Seeking a constant attitude of love places one in the position of loving the task at hand.

Whatever the menial task, however demeaning it may, if one does it in a prayerful attitude as a steward of God's creation, it will neither seem to be hard work nor a disgusting task. Sister Therese of Lisieux often challenged herself to work with others who were demanding taskmasters or who seemed to be negative about everything. Rather than be discouraged by never living up to their expectations and their constant, negative criticisms she responded with patience and kindness, knowing that seemingly insignificant tasks allowed her time to pray; whenever she took the criticism and faced the demands with a smile and a prayer, she broke down a part of the barrier between herself and her detractors.

A SPIRIT OF COMMITMENT

Commitment is one of the easier characteristics for others to see. By your presence in worship, meetings and social events you show your commitment to the Church. In this regard it may seem to be the easiest. Simply showing up is a sign of commitment. And yet, it involves so much more. Are you there when volunteers are called for? Do you respond with a "yes" when asked to serve on a committee or task force? Do you support the whole ministry of the church and regularly serve? Are you an ambassador to the community for your church, showing commitment not only within the congregation but also outside of the congregation? Is it possible to show up for all meetings, say "yes" to all tasks, and publicly proclaim the gospel in the name of Christ but still not be fully committed? Of course, but eventually that lack of commitment will be visible. It is necessary that one be committed both inwardly and outwardly. It comes down to what we value. If we are not committed in word, deed, or heart, we are not truly committed.

A SPIRIT OF GIVING

Stewardship of creation is one of the first gifts of God in Genesis. We are called upon to be stewards of the earth and all that is in it. Often we think of stewardship and giving in strictly financial terms but we are called to broaden that scope. As with the spirit of loving we must be good stewards of our own bodies and minds so that we may both be an example to others and be capable of performing the tasks to which we are called. We must also be good stewards of all that is entrusted to us. This includes our spouses, our children, and even our parents. One of the most difficult areas is to be good stewards of our time. Exhaustion and overwork are often symptoms of poor stewardship and failing to take into account our own future needs and those of others. A well-balanced life of prayer, family, work, and play should also include time for giving of one's self. Finally we are called to be good stewards of our monetary resources. As with our commitment it comes down to our values. Jesus said, "For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also."

A SPIRIT OF COOPERATION AND RESPECT

As a member of a church and the Body of God you should already be used to working as a group of people toward common goals. Your ability to work with others should be evident as you are called to the Diaconate. As important as spirit of cooperation is the spirit of respect. Even when we disagree with each other, we are called to respect the individuals. In groups we are assured of differences of opinion, and it is necessary for us to consider the opinions of others as we express our own opinions. In the end we must agree to work together on the decision of the body if we are to succeed together. Within the church is a unique organization. In sports we see the advantage of teamwork; in business we see that companies with a clear mission and focus succeed; and in the church we see that by working together we can accomplish great things. However, when we join the church, we are no longer a collection of individuals working toward a common goal; we become a part of a single body, not just a team with combined abilities, but the Body of Christ.

A SPIRIT OF SUPPORT

As in the spirit of cooperation and respect we are called to actively support one another. Simply allowing others to do something is not the same as actively supporting them. Rather than pointing out the weaknesses of other individuals, the Deacons help to make up for the weakness or find the resources or individuals necessary to fix the problematic areas. Although the Deacons may lovingly offer a critical eye to others, it should be remembered that criticism is a neutral term, which involves pointing out not only weaknesses and failures but strengths and triumphs as well. Appreciating a job well done is as important as pointing out how things can be improved.

A SPIRIT OF OPENNESS

Being open to new ideas and approaches is vital to growth. Closed minds, like closed doors, create a stale environment and keep out the spirit. Seeking new ideas and new approaches to old ways of doing things is important. Allowing new members to be a part of the community changes the Body in many ways, and being open to the working of the Holy Spirit always means the possibility of changes.

Communion Serving Procedure

For Deacons

STAGE

The serving elders and deacons walk to the back of the sanctuary when the minister leaves the Communion table at the beginning of the hymn of Communion.

Deacons and elders form two rows at the back of the church in the center aisle. Deacons in back, Elders in front.

Start down the aisle at the beginning of the second verse of the Communion hymn (traditionally there are two verses to this hymn).

Elders proceed to the Communion table and the deacons walk to the side serving tables, standing and facing the front of the tables.

The elders recite the words of institution and their individual prayers.

Bread:

The Lord Jesus, on the night he was betrayed, took bread. When he had given thanks he broke it and said, "This is my body which is for you. Do this in remembrance of me."

Cup:

After supper, Jesus took the cup saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this as often as you drink it in remembrance of me. For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup you proclaim the Lord's death until He comes.

After the "cup" elder finishes his/her individual prayer, both elders proceed to the serving tables providing the element trays to the deacons. Elders should take the element lids and place each on the outside of the table (opposite sides). Serving the deacons should be done in the following order:

- Give the bread plates first ... serving towards the center (deacon 1, then 2, then 3)
- Give the cup plates next ... serving towards the center as noted above.

Elders sit down and are served communion by deacons #1. The other deacons should remain in place until the elders are served. When the serving deacons have finished, then all deacons turn and proceed to serve the congregation.

When all the elements have been passed to the congregation, the deacons gather at the back of the sanctuary in the center aisle and proceed as a group down the aisle: Deacon 3, make sure there are enough cups to serve communion to the serving deacons.

The elders rise as the deacons approach the Communion table.

The deacons return to their original position in front of the elders. The elders will take the trays from deacon 1 and deacon 2 stacking them on the table. The elder then takes the bread and wine tray from deacon #3 and serves the bread and cup to deacon #1, then deacon #2, and deacon #3 last. The deacons should return their cup to the tray before communion is offered to the next deacon.

The elders stack the remaining elements and place the lids on each stack making sure the crosses face the congregation. Elders and Deacons remain in this position, awaiting offering.

OFFERING PROCEDURE

Elders pick up the offering baskets and hold them while the worship leader recites the Call to Offering.

At the conclusion of the Call to Offering, the elder hands the baskets to deacons 1, 2 and 3 in that order. Deacons wait until all baskets have been distributed; then deacons #3 queue off, and all deacons enter the congregation. The elders then sit down.

After the offering plates have been collected, deacons gather in the back center aisle; deacons 2 and 3 give their baskets to deacon #1. Deacons #1 walk to the front at the beginning of the Doxology.

Baskets are handed simultaneously back to the elders. The elders place the baskets on the stage.

At the end of worship leader's offertory prayer, Deacons #1 should follow the elders down the center aisle. The elders should remain at the back of the church to greet people as they leave the service.

DEACON SERVING THE STAGE

- At the beginning of the hymn of Communion the Stage Deacon, if in the choir, will stand and take their place beside the Communion Elements, which will be located on table(s) behind the choir.
- If the Stage Deacon is not in the choir, then the Stage Deacon will exit out of the Christian Ministry Center Multi-Purpose Room through the back left side door of the CMC and go to the stage through the Communion Preparation Room. At the beginning of the hymn of Communion the Stage Deacon should stand beside the Communion Elements that will be placed behind the choir.
- The Stage Deacon will begin to serve Communion when the Deacons on the floor begin to serve.
- The Stage Deacon will serve the Pastors first, then the Worship Leader, and finally the choir.
- The Stage Deacon should then return to the table behind the choir and take communion from the trays.
- The Stage Deacon will not collect offering from the choir.
- The Stage Deacon may exit the same door when all have been served or return to the choir.

CLEANING AFTER SERVICE

- Pick up the Black Friendship Folders and tear out the sheets where the congregation has signed their names.
- Remember to pick up the Black Friendship Folder(s) from the stage where the choir sits.
- Take the signed sheets to the church secretary's office and lay them on her desk.
- Pick up the used communion cups from the holders on the back of the chair and discard in the garbage can in the Communion Preparation Room. Remember to pick up the used communion cups from the choir and where the Pastor and Worship Leader sit on the stage and discard in the garbage can in the Communion Preparation Room.
- Pick up any trash and discard and then pick up any Bulletins left on the chairs or in the holders on the back of the chairs and place paper in the recycling baskets. The Financial Secretary will collect the offering from the baskets, and then a deacon should return the 6 offering baskets to the Communion Preparation Room. Return all communion juice trays and bread plates to the Communion Preparation Room. THROW AWAY ALL COMMUNION JUICE THAT LEFT OVER - DO NOT KEEP FOR THE NEXT WORSHIP. The Communion Bread that is left over can be fed to the birds or discarded in the garbage can in the Communion Preparation Room. Use the dishwashing liquid to clean the Communion Trays and Plates and dry and put back in their proper place. Remove the Chalice (Cup) from the Communion Table, clean, and put back in the cabinet in the Communion Preparation Room.
- Remove the Bread plate from the Communion Table and clean and put back in the cabinet in the Communion Prep. Room.
- Place a chair in front of the glass on the front of the Communion Table to protect it from being broken accidentally.

SECC Mission Trip Fund Request

Approved by Outreach Team, January 2014

The SECC Outreach Committee encourages the members of the church to not only donate their money but to donate their time as well. Volunteer and mission works are not only rewarding but instrumental in spreading God's word. The following procedure has been put in place for mission trip funding:

Church Members requesting financial assistance for a mission trip they are taking can be awarded the following amounts:

$200 for a mission trip being taken in the United States and $400 for a mission trip being taken outside the United States. Members are limited to one request per year (calendar/fiscal). A written description of the mission trip (including location and what they will be doing) is to be submitted to the committee no later than one month prior to needing the money. Requestor shall agree to make a report on their trip when they return home either in front of one of our many small groups or circles or submit a written report for The Current.

If a group mission trip is being taken by members of the church then only one donation will be available towards the group's expenses. This amount shall not exceed $400. A group is defined as 3 or more people (example: Youth's annual mission trip to Hazard).

In addition, we will respectfully discourage the requestor from soliciting SECC church members for giving. SECC will not advertise requests or make announcements during church requesting giving of money.
